Comments for Public Posting: Without an adequate amount of volunteers available at all Los Angeles county animal shelters, the animals suffer without interaction, exercise, clean kennels, adoptions and so many other important tasks in the shelter system. Having a centralized system for processing and evaluating volunteer applications would expedite the hiring and put these people into the tasks that will help the shelter environment improve and be successful.

Comments for Public Posting: Better system for volunteers needed better management and more staff!!!! Why is it so hard to centralize and make improvements? It takes months to get approved to volunteer.
