Comments for Public Posting: A more than double increase for an apartment building is absolute robbery. We already live in more affordable units to scrape by and an increase like this is crippling for some. Not to mention seeing trash on the streets all day in addition to feeling like we pay an arm and a leg for sanitation. I'm not saying things should never increase, but a small percentage to go with cost of living should be more than reasonable. More than doubling my bill is outrageous. Now my LADWP bi monthly bill is the highest it has ever been. The dead of winter when its lowest, is now higher than mid summer using air conditioning. I fear what the summer months look like. Shame on you Los Angeles.
