Comments for Public Posting: The overlook area was not supposed to be there in the first place. Tom LaBonge created it in the first place. (illegally bypassing city ordinances and procedures) Parking meters won't help the issues. Enforcement of parking rules (unloading passengers, parking the wrong way, stopping to take photos while in the car, etc.) will help. We moved here to enjoy our area. At worst, we should be able to use our Hollywoodland parking permits to avoid the meters. At best, don't install the meters in the first place. And while we're talking about improvements, the fence along Mulholland Hwy was supposed to be there only for the flora to grow stronger. Years later, it's still up and there is no sidewalk for the hikers so now they are strolling dangerously in the street. It sure seems that the city is mishandling this area in so many ways.
