Comments for Public Posting: RVs should not be near schools, parks, senior centers, or in neighborhoods. RVs should not exist near freeways or underpasses, sides of roads where it is imperative drivers can have clear view and right to safe passage. RVs in Los Angeles have worsened quality of life while property tax payers continue to shell out money for lower standards. If the Council wishes to see Los Angeles fall by way of San Francisco, do nothing about RVs

Comments for Public Posting: Last week, we were walking east on Venice Blvd (north side of Venice Blvd) from Erewohn grocery with our 3year old grandson in a stroller to visit the #63 Fire Station. The RV's parked there had loose dogs roaming the sidewalk/shaded area preventing us from safely using the sidewalk. Please help these people find another location to park/reside safely.

Comments for Public Posting: Just lip service? New RV motions are fantastic, but hiring officers to enforce the laws is extremely challenging. I've seen officers attempting to cite RV's, but got involved in a confrontation with the occupants and then simply walked away. Engaging with tow companies now to ensure they're willing and able to handle the removal and transport of these rolling death traps is crucial. Who is working on these two aspects of RV law enforcement?

Comments for Public Posting: This motion MUST be passed, it is beyond time. We have run the experiment of no restrictions, no regulations, and no standards when it comes to RV dwelling. That has resulted in constant fires, violence, destruction, environmental degradation, harassment, unsafe conditions, and more, with communities powerless and trapped. And for what? Certainly not the protection and empowerment of the people living in RV encampments, who are left to languish, and often die, from addiction and fires. Best case scenario they are left living in the filth and chaos that typifies most of the RV encampments. We've run the experiment, it's failed, it's time for something new. We cannot sustain the unregulated chaos of the past 4 years. The typical argument is "this is just moving the problem around. " but there is absolutely no counter measure offered. That argument is only followed up with a slogan, and a call for compassion. What we are allowing on our streets is not compassion, and a slogan is not a solution. No one thinks this motion is the end point, but we MUST have a "meanwhile" as more longterm solutions are created. You cannot continue to indefinitely ask residents to live in the dystopia LA has become. Everyone in society and community lives with standards and regulations, lives with limits on what and where they can do certain things. Let's stop pretending standards are cruel, and that madness is compassion. Pass this motion.

Comments for Public Posting: Tracy - Firstly the job you are doing is next level amazing!! You are bringing back the Venice of all our dreams. Thank you so much!! The RV situation is clearly out of control and dangerous, I fully support you motions to get control of this. It's really a no brainer to designate where these vehicles can park. On a separate issue - Why aren't the Electronic/Hydraulic metal posts, the city installed, to keep cars from driving on the Ocean Front Walk ever in use? This is clearly an oversight. As we both know, it's just a matter of time before another horrible vehicular incident will occur. The city spent big dollars to install these and yet I have never seen them used (and I'm down there everyday). Your attention to this matter would be greatly appreciated. With great admiration and respect - Paul Abascal

Comments for Public Posting: Thank you for the work of getting RVs off the streets. I agree with Traci Park in that the city needs to find suitable locations where RVs can park and receive services. I think this is a positive step forward.

Comments for Public Posting: This motion is wholly inadequate. Oversized vehicles should not be allowed to park anywhere in the city except in designated commercial or industrial zones. The motion should not be restricted to schools and other sensitive areas. Are residential and neighborhood commercial areas not sensitive too? The city needs to get back to protecting the needs of its neighborhoods. For example, why are about 20% of vehicles on the city streets unregistered? Why isn't the city citing these people to get them off the streets. 20% fewer cars on the road would go a long way toward generating less pollution and posing fewer traffic risks for everyone.

Comments for Public Posting: If the city is considering providing RVers access to showers, bathrooms and waste disposal, they should not be free. RV parks charge for these services. We taxpayers/homeowners pay for water and a monthly waste disposal. fee. If the city designates where RV's can park, they can also designate how much the showers, bathrooms and waste disposal will cost. Our tax dollars will be paying the up keep on these facilities and RV leasers, owners, and anyone else should pay their fair share as well. I imagine many of those RV's couldn't pass a smog check, have outdated license tags and violate basic safety and health issues for the occupants. Not much the city can do about that other than demand they are legal with current license tags.

Comments for Public Posting: Please protect our neighborhoods from RVs and encampments. These rvs often leave trash, litter, garbage and crime. Enough is enough. Taxpayers and our kids deserve safe streets and sidewalks. Encourage RVs to camp at Dockweiler or regulated parking areas that charge a fee for safe hookups, clean water and proper septets draining.
