Comments for Public Posting: As someone who has been involved in rescue on a volunteer basis for 25 years I have seen the heartbreak that is caused by too man's pets versus not enough adopters . As long as animals are dying for no reason other than Theresia no space for them , breeding needs to stop ?? I personally feel it shouldn't be allowed to sell a pet animal period. Most breeders do it for profit and it would stop breeding if the are not allow to sell. Also hefty fines and community service for backyard breeders without licenses. And forbidden to ever have a Pet again would help !
