Comments for Public Posting: I am in favor of this item to implement automated speed enforcement but am concerned about the slow timeline of Los Angeles's implementation. Other cities in California have already begun implementation and we should move faster.

Comments for Public Posting: Yes, but regret how long this is taking, and are concerned that the timeline is again extended (!) Other cities like San Francisco (not to mention rest of Western world.....) are already live with their speed camera program. We must implement speed cameras faster in Los Angeles to save lives and increase livability!

Comments for Public Posting: As a Downtown LA resident, I often see people driving too fast in dense neighborhoods or in the opposite direction of a one-way road using it as a shortcut which puts people at risk for injury and even death. I request that you please do not delay this program any further to help protect lives.

Comments for Public Posting: Bikes lanes, pedestrian spaces and speed limits for cars are the least we can do for the physical health and well-being of our citizenry (the stats on pedestrians killed by cars are staggering) and our planet. It's getting hotter, notice! Have the guts to take action!

Comments for Public Posting: I believe this proposed project would greatly harm koreatowns economy, greatly harming all the businesses in that area. Instead of all those businesses getting customers from near and far you would cut that down to only local customers. Then business would close and people will lose jobs. Also right now with homeless encampment problems I believe this proposed project would be greatly affected by the homeless issues in the area. We might fight more tents with drugs abuse then patrons having fun also I believe our local government should not be wasting money on bike Lanes at the moment. Our local government is going through a budget deficit and I don't believe that we should be spending money on bike lanes when less than 2% of Los Angeles residents are using bikes as their main form of transportation while obstructing the 93% who use vehicles trying to provide business to the Koreatown neighborhood. This will only hurt local businesses who depend on the residents outside of their immediate neighborhood.
