Section One: Civil Liabilities

I. Statistics Re: Cases “Processed” Each Year by the Civil Branch of the City Attorney’s Office

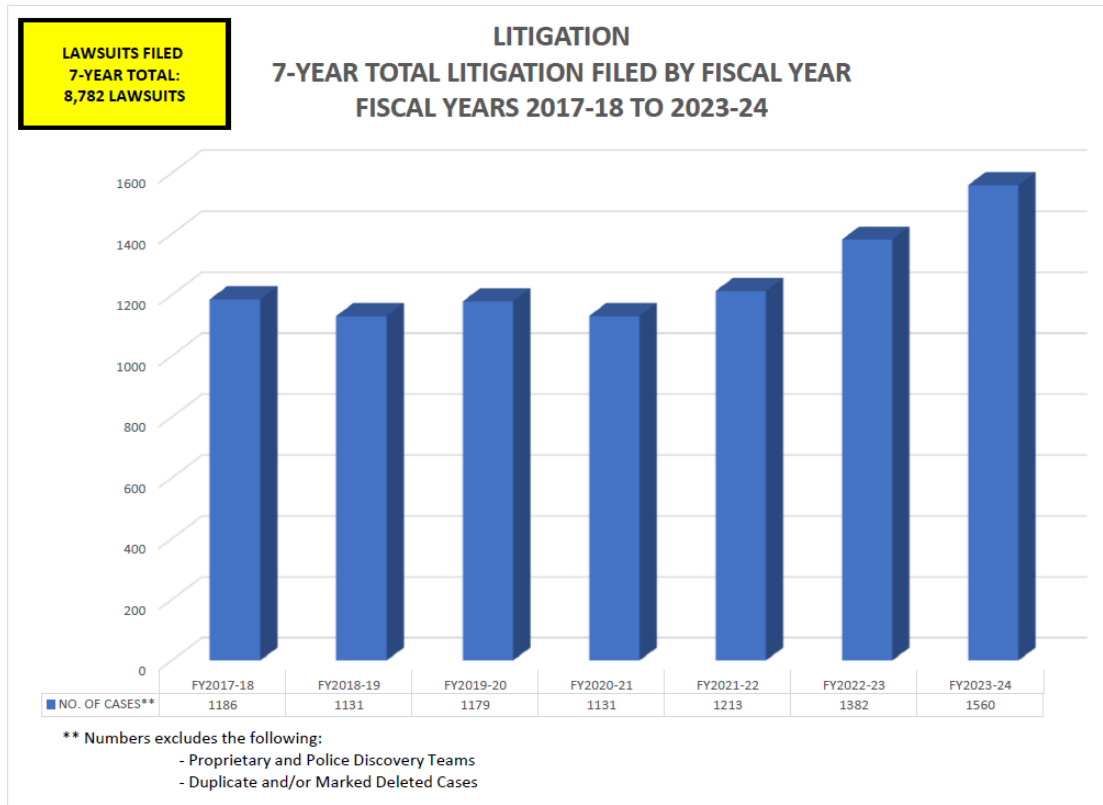

The Civil Litigation Branch (“Civil Branch”) of the City Attorney’s Office (“Office”) defends the City of Los Angeles (“City”)¹ in all non-writ matters against the City from the initial filing of a government claim through arbitration, litigation, settlement, trial and appeal. The Civil Branch practices in state and federal courts and covers all disputes from claims of negligence, dangerous condition of public property, employment, workers’ compensation, contractual disputes, civil rights, workers compensation, business, complex and other disputes.

There are several variables to consider when ascertaining the number of cases “processed” by the Civil Branch. The “processing” of a case requires both the administrative Government Claims review and intake as well as subsequent arbitration, mediation, litigation, and other disposition (whether by voluntary dismissal, dispositive motion, settlement, trial, or post-trial motions, including appeal). The litigation process can take up to five years, without considering appeal. As the bulk of the matters span across two or more years, there is no single matrix that can account for the number of cases “processed” by this Office in a single fiscal year.

The most accurate indicator of the number of cases “processed” by this Office over the past five fiscal years is the number of lawsuits filed and the number of lawsuits that have not been resolved and are still being handled by the Office. From Fiscal Year (“FY”) 2019-2020 through FY 2023-2024, the Civil Branch has seen a 49.85% increase in the number of cases filed annually from 1,655 to 2,480 (please see chart below). During that 5-year time period, approximately 9,800 cases were filed. However, lawsuits average three to six years to litigate from filing through post-trial motions. As such, the number of lawsuits handled by the Civil Branch compounds year-over-year. Simply put, when a new lawsuit is presently assigned to an attorney, that attorney is still handling matters that were filed in 2021. Presently, the Civil Branch has over 2,670 open litigation matters. This does not include cases filed with the Workers Compensation Division, which is presently handling approximately 7,000 open cases.

The number of cases handled by outside counsel account for a fraction of the overall cases the City is required to defend. In FY 20-21, outside counsel handled 18 matters, with only six matters for the Civil Branch. By FY 23-24, outside counsel were handling 86 matters, of which 67 were for the Civil Branch. Presently, Outside Counsel litigate approximately 2.45% of the total matters assigned to and managed by the Civil Branch.

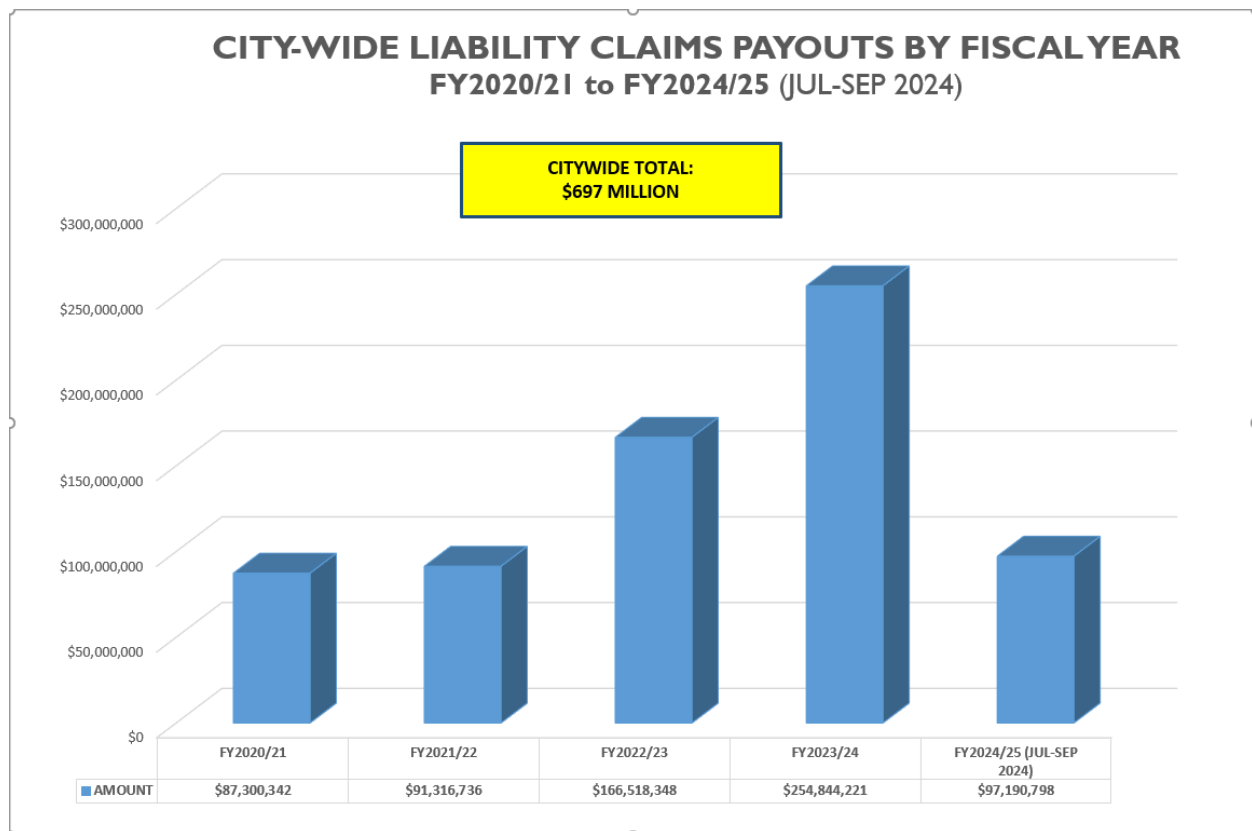

¹The Civil Branch does not handle litigation against the three proprietary branches – Los Angeles World Airports, Los Angeles Harbor and Port and Los Angeles Department of Water & Power. Those departments have their own litigators and outside counsel.

II. Settlement Amounts by Type of Lawsuit

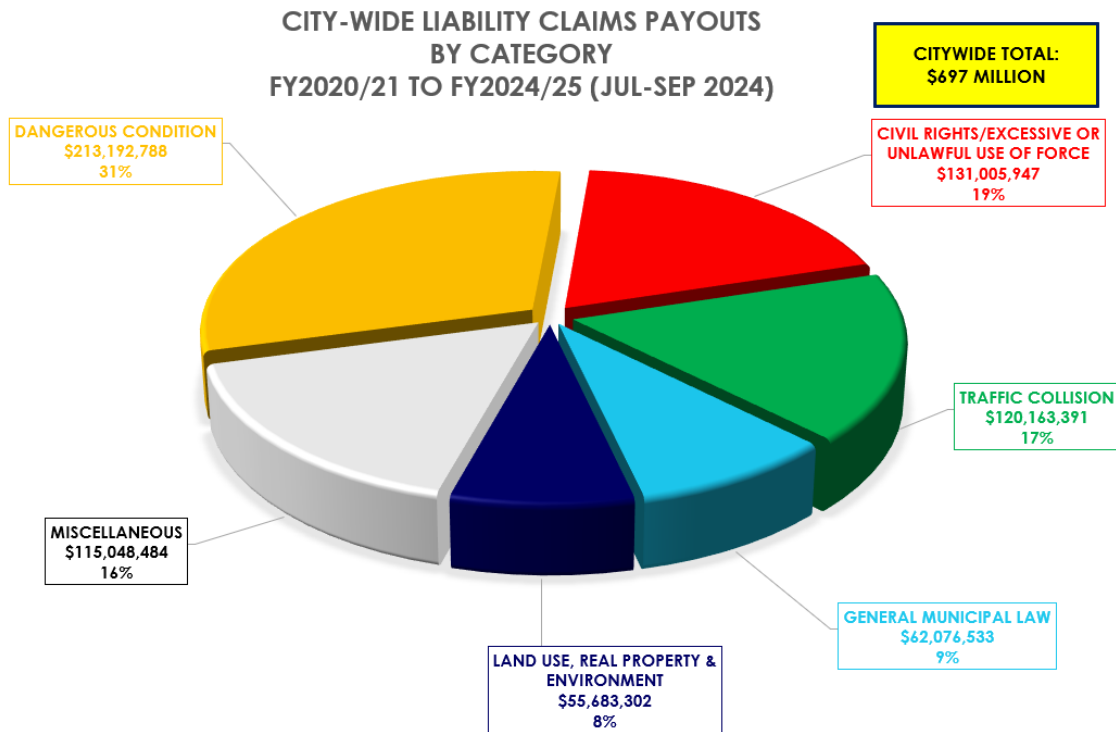

The City's liability payouts also have risen substantially over the last four years and into the present fiscal year. Payouts increased over 300% between FY 20-22 through FY 23-24 from $87 million to over $250 million². The increase likely results from multiple factors, including, but not limited to, aging infrastructure, the increase in cases filed, jurors' willingness to entertain far higher verdict amounts, single outstanding events (2020 protests, LAPD Fireworks cases, etc.), and chronic understaffing of the Civil Branch.

² Some of this appears to be a drop and then a surge due to the COVID pandemic when many courts were closed. In 2017, the City paid out $201 million in settlements and judgments. <https://www.latimes.com/local/lanow/la-me-ln-city-payouts-20180627-story.html#:~:text=Last%20budget%20year%2C%20the%20total,go%20back%20only%20two%20decades>.

For the last five fiscal years, the largest payout category has been claims related to alleged dangerous conditions on public property, which amounted to more than 30% of the payouts. The most common dangerous condition cases include trip and falls, pothole cases, and roadway/intersection cases. While trip and fall cases make up the largest category of cases in raw numbers, the roadway/intersection cases normally involve the highest exposure. Civil Rights/Excessive Force cases and Employment matters are higher exposure per case, and they carry the risk of attorney fees.

Attached to this report as addenda are documents which provide more specific information with respect to the City's civil liabilities over the past several fiscal years. Addendum A reflects a summary of the City's liability payouts over past years, and Addendum B provides a detailed overview of all of the cases for which the City was liable.

NOTES: *MISCELLANEOUS includes professional negligence, breach of contract, land use, real property & environment, and taxes.

III. Comparison of the City Settlement / Verdict Amounts relative to similar cases handled by the County of Los Angeles Specific comparisons of settlement (or judgment) amounts between the City of Los Angeles and any other entity are extremely difficult to make for a number of reasons, including the requested comparison between the City and the County of Los Angeles (“County”).

First, the County is not responsible for and does not report the liabilities incurred by the County within the jurisdiction of its 88 incorporated cities. According to the County’s Litigation Activities Report for Fiscal Year 2023/2024, the County is reimbursed by the Contract Cities Liability Trust Fund (“Fund”), which is a trust account capitalized by 44 contract cities that contract for County employees to perform services in their cities³. The Fund is self-insured for liabilities up to $2-$3 million, depending on the period of coverage. Beyond that, the Fund maintains excess insurance policies to cover losses of up to $50 million⁴. The County is left with only unincorporated areas for which it is financially liable. In addition, the County is reimbursed by litigation expenses incurred by its Special Districts, including the Flood Control District, Sewer and Drain District, Waterworks District and Road District. Each of these districts maintains its own funding source. The City, on the other hand, is self-insured and most of its liabilities are paid by the general fund of taxpayer dollars.

³ See Addendum C - the relevant portion of the County’s report on this issue.

⁴ Our office has informally requested copies of the County’s contracts with the contract cities and any insurance policies that they maintain.

Even were an apples-to-apples comparison possible (which it is not without a breakdown of how much the contracted communities paid, how much the $50 million excess liability policy paid and what was the total paid on account of individual claims or types of claims from any source), the County consists of 88 incorporated cities (including the City of Los Angeles), and unincorporated areas which are more sparsely populated. Geographically, 65% of the County is unincorporated, but merely 10% of the County population lives in these unincorporated areas. Thus, much of the risk / liability for the City (e.g., slip and fall, sidewalk) either does not exist for the County, or falls on the shoulders of the incorporated municipalities within the County. Similarly, the City requires much more of the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) than the County does of the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department (LASD). The City's 8,832 sworn officers police 3,821,000 people over 469 square miles. The County's 9,915 deputies police the 1 million people in unincorporated areas as well as 1.6 million people in the 44 incorporated communities that contract with the County for law enforcement services, resulting in a total of 2.6 million people, over 4,084 square miles. The City covered by the LAPD is approximately 3.5 times more densely populated than the areas covered by the LASD for the County while the LASD has 1,083 more sworn officers. In short, the City is doing more with fewer law enforcement officers, which stresses the department, increasing risk on multiple levels, many of which result in increased liability for the City.

Every case is unique to the facts of that case, and the changing of a single factor will change the valuation. A perfect example of this fact can be seen in what are generically and broadly called "traffic collision" cases. In those matters, the facts and the injuries vary from the minor fender bender to a tragic multi-car accident resulting in fatalities and permanent injuries. One traffic collision may involve a city vehicle slowly rolling into the back of another vehicle while stopped at a red light, resulting in minimal property damage and nominal soft tissue injuries to any passengers inside the vehicles. Another traffic collision may involve a police vehicle in a high-speed pursuit colliding with a minivan carrying a family of seven, resulting in the death of everyone inside the minivan. Assuming the City employee is at fault in both cases, the resulting liabilities for these two cases will be vastly different, even though both would be categorized as "traffic collisions" for purposes of this report. Even in cases involving seemingly similar injuries, such as a broken leg, the damages may be vastly different. A broken leg on an unemployed and sedentary adult which heals well will result in lower damages than one suffered by an individual whose job requires them to walk, or whose injury did not heal well. There is no "approximate value" for a broken leg, for being fired, or for being unlawfully detained. Employment cases, dangerous condition cases, and civil rights cases are each assessed individually and can be as varied in terms of liability and damages as traffic collisions. The Office makes early assessments and strives to settle every case where the City is liable and the plaintiff is realistic and reasonable in its settlement demand.

On February 4, 2025, the Office of the County Counsel released its Annual Litigation Cost Report for Fiscal Year 2023-24 which contained data that is used in this report. Unfortunately, the manner in which the County documents its liabilities is substantially different from the manner in which the City documents its own. The County documents its liabilities by department, rather than by classification. Thus, the County's report reflects what it spent in employment cases for the Sheriff's department, but does not reflect what it spent for employment cases countywide. The City Attorney's office handles all employment cases in one Employment Litigation Division (though some cases are handled by outside counsel and supervised by the Division), so the City can provide data as to how much money was spent on all employment cases citywide, as well as how much was spent on employment cases involving specific departments, including the LAPD. With this granular analysis by the City, we can compare what was spent by the County on LASD cases with what was spent by the City on LAPD cases, but we do not know how much money the County spent on all employment cases countywide.

Also, there are liability-generating departments within the County that do not have City counterparts. For example, the County is responsible for negligence claims stemming from child placement and monitoring issues in its Department of Child and Family Services, as well as medical malpractice claims from its various county medical facilities⁵. The City does not have similar departments. Furthermore, as noted above, the County contracts some of its services to other cities (sheriff deputies, for example), and a number of those cities have insurance policies that reimburse the County for liabilities that occur in those cities.⁶

Despite these differences, here is a comparison of the liabilities in categories that we could match:

A. Analysis of the Overall City/County Lawsuit Liability Comparison

As reflected in this chart, the City paid twice as much in liabilities from lawsuits ($249,085,644 paid by the City, $124,974,839 paid by the County) for Fiscal Year 23/24. However, the County paid over $35 million more than the City the previous fiscal year. The City also paid twice as much as the County when it came to Civil Judgments ($45M versus approximately $24M) in fiscal year 23/24, but only paid $8M in judgments the previous fiscal year, while the County paid over $69M. This large fluctuation in numbers appears to have more to do with nuclear verdicts or very large settlements than anything else (see chart below for judgments in excess of $2.5 million.) Just a few of these large verdicts or settlements can consume all of the funds budgeted for liabilities for a particular fiscal year.¹⁰

The City resolved approximately 1153 lawsuits last fiscal year, compared to only 804 cases resolved by the County. This number was calculated by this Office by adding together all trials, settlements, dismissals, and appeals resolved for each entity. The numbers provided by the County are more opaque given that more than 2600 new lawsuits were filed against the County. In other words, there were 2675 new lawsuits filed against the County last fiscal year, but the County appears to have only resolved 804 lawsuits, creating a backlog of 1,871. The City, on the other hand, received 1560 new lawsuits, and resolved approximately 1153 lawsuits – a difference of only 325.

The average price of a settlement or judgment based upon these numbers also varies dramatically (although it is not clear whether the County's numbers are net of insurance proceeds). For fiscal year 23/24, the City settled each lawsuit for an average of $301,000, while the County settled each case for an average of $374,000. With respect to judgments, the juries awarded an average of $2.4 million per lawsuit against the City, while jurors only awarded an average of $1.8 million per lawsuit against the County. In terms of case evaluation, the City settled lawsuits, on average, for less than the County did in the last fiscal year. However, jury verdicts were higher on average against the City than those against the County. A Comparison of Law Enforcement Liabilities: City v. County

During the time frame for which data is available, the LASD had approximately 1000 more sworn deputies (9800 deputies) than the LAPD had sworn officers (8800 officers). Approximately 2300 of the sworn LASD deputies are assigned to the Custody Division, working in courtrooms or jail facilities, assignments that appear to have a lower risk of liability, confrontation, or complaints than responding to emergencies, calls for service or patrol assignments.

¹⁰ For example the County's recently announced $4,000,000,000,000 settlement of cases related to the sexual abuse of minors in the County's care over the decades is likely to dwarf the City's liabilities for years to come.

(1) Police Misconduct

In the last fiscal year, the liabilities paid for police misconduct cases was approximately $50 million for both the City and the County. With that sum, the County resolved 388 lawsuits while the City only resolved 51 lawsuits. These figures suggest that the City paid an average of $999,192 per case, while the County only paid $131,996¹¹ per case. More than ½ that differential results from a single nuclear verdict that the City suffered last fiscal year ($25,295,884). Removing that outlier reduces the City's total liability for police misconduct to $25,410,285, and the average payment per case to $513,258. The average paid by the City on this type of case was $449,334 per case the prior fiscal year.

(2) Traffic Collisions

The City paid more than the County to resolve traffic collision cases last fiscal year—$20 million more. For FY 2023-24, the County paid an average of $49,021¹² per traffic collision lawsuit, while the City paid an average of $468,257 per lawsuit. Four large settlements on traffic collision cases ($8 million, $5 million, $7.625 million, and $3.25 million) skewed the average higher. Removing those settlements brings the average settlement down to $119,020 per lawsuit. During the previous fiscal year, the City paid an average of $71,867 per traffic lawsuit.

(3) Employment

The City paid substantially more in employment matters last fiscal year, paying an average of $1,935,679 per lawsuit, while the County paid an average of $5,439¹³ per lawsuit. The City was hit with a $5.8 million judgment last year, without which the average would have been $1.5 million. The City paid closer to $1 million per lawsuit during the previous fiscal year.

Changes¹⁴ in California employment laws have made California more “plaintiff friendly” than it used to be and than other states are, which has resulted in an increase in employment litigation across the board. The impact of these changes has been acutely felt in the Employment Litigation Division, where in the last three years the number of cases have more than doubled, from 109 in 2021, to 228 in 2024. Unlike the County, which refers most cases to outside counsel, in the City most cases are handled by the Office doubling the caseloads of the attorneys in the employment litigation division and dramatically reducing the ability of our Office to effectively prepare employment cases for trial. Counsel for plaintiffs coordinate litigation with each other and with third parties for strategic advantage against City attorneys. Finally, verdicts are heavily impacted by negative perceptions of employers and government as a whole, which

¹³ See Footnote 9.

¹⁴ For example, effective January 1, 2020, the statute of limitations for violations of FEHA were expanded from one to three years (under Assembly Bill 9). Additionally, amendments to Labor Code 1102.5 which took effect January 1, 2024 expanded the definition of protected activities, enhanced remedies for retaliation, and shifted the burden of proof. Under the new law, once an employee demonstrates that they engaged in protected activity and suffered an adverse action, the burden shifts to the employer to prove that the adverse action would have occurred regardless of the whistleblowing.

have resulted in an epidemic of higher verdicts in California and nationwide. The City and its departments, including LAPD, have faced their own unique issues in this regard.

B. Dangerous Conditions

The City's liability for dangerous condition lawsuits increased last fiscal year by $33 million from the previous fiscal year. The average paid per lawsuit last year was approximately $213,618, whereas it had been $147,576 the previous year. The County paid an average of $84,138¹⁵ per dangerous condition lawsuit last fiscal year. The City resolved 394 dangerous condition lawsuits last fiscal year, an increase from the 346 lawsuits resolved the previous year. The County resolved only 124 dangerous condition lawsuits last fiscal year but that only covers the unincorporated areas of the County. The large number of City lawsuits in this category is a reflection of the potholes, broken sidewalks, and dying trees that are causing injuries to people in the City while the unincorporated areas of the County, with a population that is approximately 25% of the population of the City, would seem to have far fewer circumstances where these issues would arise. Moreover, according to its website, the County routinely inspects sidewalks, curbs and gutters. The City likely would benefit and realize savings in reduced liabilities if it had a proactive inspection system, rather than the reactive system that is currently in place.

C. Additional Statistics

The chart below reflects the City's liability payouts for the most costly categories for the last several fiscal years. The numbers reflect that the liabilities are trending higher in every category although some of the increase may be the backlog created during the COVID years. This trend is not unique to the City or to the Los Angeles area.

D. Judgments and Settlements

For FY 2023-24, both the City and the County suffered large liabilities for specific cases. The County identified 2 judgments and 12 settlements over $2.5 million in its recent liability report for FY 2023-24. The City identified 4 judgments and 15 settlements over $2.5 million for the same year, which was a large increase from the previous year in which the City only paid 1 judgment and 5 settlements over $2.5 million. See below.

For FY 2022-23, the County incurred significantly more liability, and provided information of some of its higher settlements, which include:

- Avalos: DCFS/Failure to protect - $32,000,000
- Guardado: LASD/Deputy-involved shooting - $8,000,000
- Neal: LASD/Deputy-involved shooting - $7,000,000
- Briceno: LASD/Police misconduct-excessive force - $7,000,000. The lawsuit settled for $16,250,000. After insurance proceeds, the County paid $7 million.
- Esphorst: LASD/Police misconduct-negligence - $6,500,000
- Venegas-Garcia: LASD/Deputy-involved shooting - $2,750,000

The City, on the other hand, had only the following liabilities in excess of $2.5 million in FY 2022-23:

- Castellanos: Professional negligence/Fire - $7,500,000
- Lou Vince: Employment - medical discrimination - $5,094,385 (judgment)
- Andrew Wilson: Law Enforcement - false arrest - $5,000,000
- Mia Pano: Recreation and Parks - dangerous condition/tree - $10,500,000
- Adam Hoffman: Sanitation - ordinance challenge - $57,500,000
- Tyler Shear: Transportation - dangerous condition/roadway design - $4,000,000

E. Analysis of Judgments and Settlements

The City had a rough time in FY 23/24. Two cases (Murillo and Mei Ling) cost the City nearly $64 million—over half of the entire litigation budget for the entire fiscal year. Considering the fact that the City settled or went to trial on just under 700 cases, the budgeted amount was not going to be enough.

These larger liabilities reflect the fact that the County, as well as the City, has suffered from “nuclear verdicts”, as evidenced by the $17 million payment on a $53 million judgment on the Mary Amador case. When these “nuclear verdicts” occur, the cost of settling similar cases often increases as well. A discussion of these types of verdicts continues below.

IV. Nationwide Trends in Nuclear Verdicts

A “nuclear verdict” is a jury award in a civil case that is significantly higher than what is considered reasonable or expected (often in excess of $10 million). Nuclear verdicts are frequently seen in personal injury or wrongful death lawsuits. Nuclear verdicts have a significant effect on the way in which cases are valued. Whenever a nuclear verdict is handed down, the value of similar cases instantly rises, making it more difficult to resolve them at a reasonable amount, and leaving the other defendant individuals, municipalities or corporations vulnerable to suffering comparable verdicts at trial.

The United States Chamber of Commerce published a study in 2024 that concluded that nuclear verdicts are trending upwards across the country, though they are more prevalent in some states than others¹⁶. In fact, California had the most nuclear verdicts in personal injury and wrongful death litigation of any state from 2013 through 2022 with 199 identified verdicts in excess of $10 million. Even considering its size, the state places in the Top 10 on a per-capita basis. During this time, jurors awarded more than $9 billion in public funds as damages in these cases.¹⁷

The 10-year study¹⁸ found that while nuclear verdicts dropped significantly during the COVID-19 pandemic, they rebounded to near their prior levels by the third quarter of 2021.

¹⁶ Nuclear verdicts against cities, counties and other public entities are not possible in 38 states and are not possible in certain types of actions against the federal government. Most states limit noneconomic damages against public entities and taxpayer funds to $250,000 or $350,000.

¹⁷ Judicial Hellholes-2024-2025 Executive Summary; <https://www.judicialhellholes.org/hellhole/2024-2025/california/>

¹⁸ The study analyzed 1,288 reported nuclear verdicts (jury verdicts of $10 million or more) in personal injury and wrongful death cases over a 10-year period between January 1, 2013, and December 31, 2022. This period included the COVID-19 pandemic, during which courts shut down or suspended trials. [<https://instituteforlegalreform.com/wp-content/uploads/2024/05/ILR-May-2024-Nuclear-Verdicts-Study.pdf>]

When excluding the pandemic years, the data showed an upward trend in the frequency of reported nuclear verdicts at all levels over the 10-year study period. In addition to an increase in the frequency of nuclear verdicts, the size of the verdicts is also increasing. The median reported nuclear verdict for case types between 2013 and 2022 was $21 million. Intentional tort cases had the highest median nuclear verdict ($28.6 million), followed by product liability ($25 million), miscellaneous cases ($22.4 million), and auto accident ($21 million). The number of reported verdicts above $100 million hit an all-time high in 2023 (at least 23). This represents a near 400% increase in $100 million-plus verdicts since 2013.

Several factors are reported to have increased the number and size of nuclear verdicts. In the courtroom, courts have become more lenient and increasingly allow plaintiffs' lawyers to use tactics that play on emotion, introduce "day in the life" stories of injured individuals, manipulate juror behavior and arbitrarily inflate damages. Some plaintiffs' lawyers purposefully inflame juries and improperly urge them to "send a message" through pain and suffering and other forms of noneconomic damage awards which in effect become a substitute for the punitive damages that are not recoverable against the City, the County or any other public entity¹⁹. Outside the courtroom, some plaintiffs' law firms have been known to flood the airwaves and the media with lawsuit advertising that touts extraordinary verdicts and shapes potential jurors' views of appropriate compensation.²⁰

The data also revealed that four states—California, Florida, New York, and Texas—claim half of the nation's nuclear verdicts. California and Florida are virtually tied for generating the most nuclear verdicts over the 10-year period including 2013 through 2022. California also ranks eighth for nuclear verdicts per capita, demonstrating that the number of nuclear verdicts in the Golden State does not stem from its population but is driven by its liability-friendly laws and courts. In California, auto accident cases had the lead share of nuclear verdicts (35.2%), while product liability came next (22.6%).

Examples of Nuclear Verdicts by State

Though many of the nationwide nuclear verdicts were decided against corporations, these easily could have been brought against municipalities under similar fact patterns, so the list of examples below includes both private and public defendants.

California

- A $161 million verdict in Orange County against a motorcycle manufacturer. In that case, the plaintiff struck an SUV that had abruptly stopped as the other driver attempted to cross three lanes of traffic to turn left out of a shopping center parking lot. The plaintiff blamed the accident on the failure of the motorcycle's front brake to work properly. (2023)
- A $36 million verdict in Los Angeles County to the family of a 26-year-old motorcyclist. The motorcyclist died after he hit a pickup truck that was slowly turning out of a driveway. While the defendant contended that the motorcyclist was going 80 mph on a 35 mph road and had methamphetamine in his system, the jury found the pickup truck driver exclusively responsible for the accident. (2023)

¹⁹ Forty-seven states, including California, retain their sovereign immunity to prohibit the award of punitive damages as against public entities or otherwise paid by taxpayer dollars.

²⁰ In California, the plaintiffs' bar contributes heavily to candidates running for state offices and is a critical source of revenue for media companies.

- A $41.49 million verdict ($30 million in punitive damages) in Los Angeles County in a retaliatory and discriminatory firing. (December 2023)
- A $61 million verdict ($59.7 million in noneconomic damages) in Los Angeles County in a wrongful death case. (December 2023)
- Three separate verdicts amounted to $80.2 million ($75 million in punitive damages) in Sacramento County for three former employees in unlawful termination. (April 2024)

Florida

- A $411.7 million verdict against a trucking company in a case involving a motorcyclist who was severely injured when he attempted to avoid a 45-car pileup ahead of him and crashed into a truck that had stopped in the emergency lane. (October 2020)
- A $1 billion jury verdict against two trucking companies after a semi driver rear-ended a line of cars that had stopped due to another accident, killing a teenage driver. (August 2021)
- A $120 million verdict stemming from an accident with a city utility vehicle. (May 2021)

Georgia

- A verdict including $1.7 billion in punitive damages and $24 million in compensatory damages against Ford in a trial alleging that a couple would have survived a tragic rollover accident if their pickup truck had a stronger roof. (August 2022)

Illinois

- A $33.5 million verdict against the Village of Dolton after a driver led police on a high speed chase, rather than pull over, after he rolled through a stop sign. The jury held the town liable for its officers' failure to abandon the pursuit, awarding the two passengers in the vehicle, one who died and one who was severely injured, $10 million and $23 million, respectively.
- A $91 million settlement with a Cook County, IL plaintiff who sued the company after a motorist accidentally drove a vehicle into the storefront, pinned the plaintiff, and ultimately resulted in a double lower extremity amputation. Despite 7-Eleven complying with all local building codes and ordinances, the company chose to settle the lawsuit for a stunning $91 million rather than risk trial in Cook County. Notably, the 7-Eleven location lacked bollards surrounding the storefront, which plaintiff's counsel argued would have easily prevented the incident at minimal cost to 7-Eleven.
- A $10 million settlement with the family of a mentally ill black woman who was shot and killed in her home by a sheriff's deputy after she refused to put down a pot of boiling water. (February 2025)

Missouri

- A $745 million verdict resulted from a case in which a 20-year-old driver who had passed out after inhaling a food propellant crashed his SUV into the plaintiff's car and killed her. The family sued the distributor of the product and the local smoke shop that sold it, claiming that they knew customers purchased the product, which includes nitrous oxide, intending to get high. A St. Louis County jury found the distributor 70% responsible, the smoke shop 20% responsible, and the driver just 10% at fault.

- Parents were awarded $745 million after their 25-year-old daughter was struck and killed on the sidewalk by a driver who had passed out after consuming nitrous oxide. The parents filed a lawsuit against the Coughing Cardinal (where the motorist purchased nitrous oxide) and United Brands (who manufactured, distributed, and sold the nitrous oxide under the name “Whip-It!” as a food propellant). United Brands and Coughing Cardinal faced negligence, strict liability, and conspiracy claims. Despite United Brand’s argument that it should be no more liable than a beer manufacturer would be for a drunk driver causing a wrongful death, the St. Louis jury handed down 10% liability to the driver, 20% to Coughing Cardinal, and 70% to United Brands. United Brand was ultimately liable for $20 million in compensatory damages and $700 million for aggravating circumstances, while the Coughing Cardinal’s aggravating circumstances damages were $25 million. Notably, Missouri does not have a cap on wrongful death damages. (September 2023)

Pennsylvania

- A verdict of $180 million in compensatory damages and $800 million in punitive damages was awarded against Mitsubishi. The verdict stemmed from a car accident where the seatbelt of plaintiff’s 1992 Mitsubishi 3000 GT failed to adequately restrain him and purportedly contributed to his injuries.

These nuclear verdicts adversely affect society. The prospect of a nuclear verdict makes it more difficult to fairly resolve claims, leading to unnecessary litigation and appeals. They also drive up the settlement value of our cases here in Los Angeles. Our attorneys must balance the risk of an adverse (and potentially nuclear) verdict after trial against the likelihood of a successful defense verdict, to determine an appropriate settlement value in each case. The increase in the frequency and size of nuclear verdicts in our City, County, State and Country make this task more and more difficult.

Section Two: Outside Counsel

I. The Three Scenarios When the City Needs Outside Counsel

In most situations, the City Attorney keeps all litigation matters in-house. The majority of the attorneys and staff in the Office are dedicated public servants who sought out employment in the public sector. Once employed by the office, these attorneys and staff feel a strong loyalty to the City and their work, gain an indispensable familiarity with and knowledge of the City and its departments and have years of experience advising on, drafting, or defending the work of the City and the policies and procedures of its departments. There are however three situations that result in the City Attorney making a recommendation to retain outside counsel to handle a matter or matters.

A. Expertise Beyond the City Attorney’s Office

First, if defending the City in a particular case requires expertise or resources beyond what our Office has available, then the City Attorney will usually issue a request for proposal (RFP) seeking a firm or firms who can handle the subject matter. For example, our Office typically will not handle criminal investigations of, or allegations of corruption or ethical breaches by, the City. We have a substantial number of prosecutors but do not have any experienced criminal defense lawyers. We typically will request outside counsel for potential investigations where the City itself or a high-ranking official acting within the scope of their duties is a potential target. Similarly, the Civil Branch historically has not handled wage-and-hour litigation in-house for several reasons: the number of cases filed have, historically, been comparatively low, the cases require subject matter expertise, and the cases often involved a large number of plaintiffs, which would require a surge of personnel.

B. Critically Important Cases that Require Special Attention

Second, the City is sometimes forced to defend itself in matters that are critically important to the future of the City, and require uniquely special handling. For these cases, the City Attorney may recommend that the City retain outside counsel, often to work with our attorneys, to make sure that the City is well-defended. Recent examples of litigation requiring special handling are the multiple cases brought as a result of the wildfires in Pacific Palisades in January of 2025. The Office expected a large volume of lawsuits to be brought against the City stemming from those fires, and sought outside law firms with experience handling litigation specific to wildfire liability to represent the City.

C. Excessive Workload Relief

Third, when the volume of cases brought against the City becomes impossible to defend given staffing levels, then the Office will seek to retain an outside firm or firms to take over the defense of those cases, under the supervision of the Office. These are cases that would typically be handled by our city attorneys, but due to increasingly unmanageable caseloads, outside help is required to handle the surge in capacity. An example of this type of situation occurred in 2020/2021 with the protests in Los Angeles following the murder of George Floyd in Minnesota. That year, the City was sued in 55 cases, three of which were class action lawsuits. Though these types of cases would normally be defended by Deputy City Attorneys assigned to the Police Litigation Unit of the Civil Litigation Branch, they were unable to take on the additional work due to low staffing levels and high caseloads. Therefore, an RFP was issued, and five law firms were retained to handle all but one of the protest cases. The Police Litigation Unit kept one of the class action lawsuits.

II. Cost Comparison: Deputy City Attorneys and Outside Counsel - Protest Cases

Conducting an analysis of the cost effectiveness of using outside counsel over our own city attorneys is challenging for various reasons. First, as has been reiterated several times in this report, trying to compare the handling and outcome of one case against another case is difficult, as the strengths and weaknesses of each case are based primarily on the facts of each case, and the facts of each case are unique.

As mentioned above, the Office seeks to retain outside counsel for one of three reasons. For the first two reasons – (1) need for unique expertise and (2) critically important cases– there is not comparable data to how those cases would be handled in-house. Historically, the Office has always requested outside counsel retention in those two situations, and this City Attorney will continue to make these requests in each of these two situations. Since these types of cases are historically handled by outside counsel, there is no in-house data to which we could compare.

With respect to the third reason for sending cases to outside counsel—excessive volume of cases for current staffing levels—there is a limited amount of data available to conduct such a comparison, given that the City Attorney did not begin sending cases out of the office due to excessive workloads until a few years ago when the protest cases from 2020 civil unrest events were filed. The City was the subject of 55 protest lawsuits stemming from those incidents—all filed within a short time frame. Though the Office will likely never be staffed in such a way as to handle that kind of a surge, the need to send cases to outside counsel due to the sheer volume of litigation has become the “new normal”.

Because the Office sent 54 cases to outside counsel that, but for the volume, would have been handled in-house, there is sufficient data with respect to those cases to provide this Honorable Body with an analysis as to the cost effectiveness of retaining outside counsel on cases which would normally be handled in-house. For this reason, this report will focus on the civil defense of protest cases for purposes of analyzing the cost effectiveness of deputy city attorneys against outside counsel.

II. Police Protest Cases: Cost Effectiveness Analysis of the Use of Outside Counsel

A. The Who, What, Where, When and Why of the 2020 Protest Cases

1. Reason for Retention

In 2020, following the protests in Los Angeles, the City Attorney’s office received 55 lawsuits stemming from protest events, including protests regarding George Floyd, Donald Trump, Echo Park, and WiSpa. At the time, the Police Litigation Unit had two attorney vacancies, and each attorney had a caseload of 18-20 lawsuits, which was nearly double the size of a reasonable caseload for that complex federal practice. The Police Litigation Unit was simply unable to take on the additional protest cases that were filed, so the Office, under the prior administration, issued a Request for Proposal and five law firms with experience handling police litigation were retained.

2. Data

Of the 55 lawsuits that were filed, 54 of them were sent to the five outside firms. As of the date of this report, 6 of those cases have been tried before a jury, and two of them resulted in defense verdicts. The other four cases had the following results:

- (a) Marroquin v. City: Plaintiff’s verdict-$500,000 plus $686,478 in Plaintiff’s attorneys’ fees—Less Lethal Munition (“LLM”) struck plaintiff in the head causing laceration

- (b) Pineda v. City: Plaintiff's verdict-$85,000 plus $1.2M in Plaintiff's attorneys' fees—LLM struck plaintiff in the side causing bruise
- (c) Shakir v. City: Plaintiff's verdict-$3.75M—laceration to Plaintiff's finger caused by LLM
- (d) Jones v. City: Plaintiff's verdict-$375,000—head injury caused by LLM (case ultimately settled for a total of $860,000 inclusive of attorney's fees)

Of the remaining cases, 28 have resulted in settlements totaling $13,162,000 (average $470,071 per case) with a range in settlement value of $5,000 to $1.5M per plaintiff. In addition to these protest cases, 12 cases alleging civil rights violations by police officers were sent to outside counsel due to staffing shortages. Of those, one resulted in a defense verdict, and two resulted in plaintiffs' verdicts in the amounts of $150,000 and $13.5M. With respect to settlements, one settled for $2.25M, and another settled for $8M.

3. Outside Firms Selected versus Police Litigation Deputies

Each of the five law firms selected employed attorneys with significant police litigation experience. The fees to which the City and the Firms agreed reflect that expertise, but are also considered reasonable for a client who is a municipality.

The Deputy City Attorneys assigned to the Police Litigation Unit handle only police litigation matters, and have developed an expertise in doing so. They also provide training to the Los Angeles Police Department, and are readily familiar with the organization, practices and policies of the department. They work side-by-side with LAPD detectives assigned to LAPD's Risk Management and Legal Affairs Division who assist them on a daily basis with defending the City and its police officers in litigation. When cases are assigned to outside counsel, those same detectives assist the outside firm in obtaining discoverable documents and information.

B. Cost Comparison

1. Deputy City Attorneys - Police Litigation Unit

Most of the Deputy City Attorneys assigned to PLU are Deputy City Attorney IIIs (DCA-IIIs) although there are more senior positions and all of the lawyers in litigation are provided with an additional stipend due to the volume and workload. The highest salary for a DCA-III, including the cost of benefits, is $267,000, though the salary range between a top-step DCA-II and a top-step DCA-IV is $201,000 to $308,000, including benefits paid. For purposes of this analysis, the salary + benefits of a top-step DCA-III will be used.

Assuming a more reasonable caseload of 12 matters per lawyer (although currently each PLU attorney carries an average of 19 cases), then the City is paying $22,500 per case per year to have a PLU attorney handle it, assuming that attorney is a DCA-III ($267,000 per year / 14 cases = $22,500 per case per year).

2. Outside Counsel - Police Litigation Experience

The five firms that contracted with the City to handle the protest cases each entered into their own contracts with the attorneys' fees set. Though partners earn higher fees than associates, the average hourly rate for outside counsel on these cases is roughly $265 per hour.

Most of the protest cases were filed in the latter half of 2021, though some were filed in late 2020, and some were filed in 2022. Using the data showing amounts paid by the City for each case from late 2021 through late 2024 (approximately 3 years), the City can average the amount paid per case during that time period to determine the amount of money it paid per case per year by dividing the average cost per case by 3 years. Excluding early dismissals of protest cases, the City paid approximately $190,924 per protest case during that three year period, which works out to $63,641 per case per year for those cases handled by outside counsel or nearly three times what it would cost to have additional City Attorney lawyers to handle the case.

3. Deputy City Attorneys Are A More Cost Effective Choice for the City

Taking averages from the data, it appears that the City actually paid $14,050 per DCA-III per case per year to handle police litigation matters for a three-year period (Fall of 2021 through Fall of 2024) since during that time frame, the lawyers in the Unit were handling an average of 19 cases each ($$267,000/19 \text{ cases} = $14,050 \text{ per case per year}$). During that same period, the City paid on average $63,641 per case per year when outside counsel handled the matter—a difference of $49,591 per case per year. The 54 police litigation protest lawsuits that outside counsel handled or is handling results in a calculated cost of $2,677,914 per case per year, or $8,033,742 over the three years that the City had to pay to outside counsel to handle cases that the Police Litigation attorneys could have handled but for their workload. To keep the cases in-house, the City would have needed to hire 5 additional Deputy City Attorneys, and the total cost of paying the salary and benefits for 5 additional deputy city attorneys would have been $267,000 salary per year x 5 city attorneys = $1,335,000 per year, or $4,005,000 over three years. A rough estimate of savings shows that on these assumptions, the City could have saved as much as $4,028,742 over the three year period by hiring 5 additional Deputy City Attorneys.

C. Litigation Results

In addition to comparing the cost difference between Deputy City Attorneys and Outside Counsel, it is also important to compare the results of handling cases, including but not limited to settlements and trial results. The following is a brief analysis of this comparison.

1. There is no difference between City Attorney handling and Outside Counsel handling when it comes to Settlements

Matters referred to outside counsel have historically been those which require special expertise in areas of law which Deputy City Attorneys do not practice. As such, there is no data to analyze to compare or contrast the settlement amounts achieved by outside counsel versus the City Attorney's Office. In addition, case to case comparisons are almost impossible to achieve due to the unique nature of each case. The facts of the case, the court in which a case is being tried, the jurors selected to hear a case, the time of year a case is being tried and recent media stories can all have an effect on the outcome of a trial.

With respect to settlements, the City Attorney's Office continues to monitor and supervise all cases being handled by our outside counsel with the exception of cases for which a conflict has been declared. Those cases are supervised exclusively by the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) 's office.

When a case is set for mediation, the outside counsel will meet with the City Attorney(s) who are supervising the case. After a discussion has taken place, the City Attorney, or her designee, will establish an appropriate settlement range within which the outside counsel are authorized to settle a case. The CAO or his designee will do the same on conflict cases. Thus, even though a case is being handled by outside counsel, either the City Attorney's Office or the CAO's office is still responsible for settlement authority.

2. Deputy City Attorneys Get More Cases Dismissed and Are More Successful in Trial

Outside counsel went to trial 6 times between 2023 and early 2025, winning twice, meaning they were successful 33% of the time. In that same time period, Outside Counsel secured 1 voluntary dismissal of a lawsuit.

During the same time period, PLU attorneys went to trial 15 times and won 10 of them, meaning that they were successful 67% of the time they went to trial. The PLU team also secured 22 dismissals by summary judgment and 24 voluntary dismissals by plaintiffs.

As stated above, the facts of each case make it difficult to compare one to another, and this data should not be interpreted to suggest that the City's Outside Counsel are ineffective in any way. To the contrary, these are very successful law firms that stepped up to assist the City when it could not handle the workload. What should be taken away from this data is the fact that our Deputy City Attorneys are experts in the defense of the City and, in particular, the Los Angeles Police Department and its officers. All of their expertise provides a huge benefit to the City – for the bargain price of $14,000 per case per year.

The takeaway from this snapshot of these cases is that the City benefits more by investing in attorneys of its own who will become experts in its defense than it does by paying outside firms to defend it.

IV. Trends associated with Outside Counsel Expenditures

Recent years have seen an unprecedented “perfect storm” of a spike in new types of litigation against the City. Novel issues requiring advice for which there is no in-house expertise, a shortage of actual internal resources, and the City's hiring freezes and other staffing challenges. Not only did this Office find itself in need of retaining a panel of law firms to assist in the defense of the protest cases, it also saw a flurry of unusually high stakes personal injury litigation, typically handled in-house, which required the additional resources and expertise of outside counsel, as well as a raft of federal and state investigations into the City and repeated challenges to ballot measures, ordinances and projects.

Additionally, in January of 2023, the California State Assembly passed a law allowing for the filing of sexual abuse cases that would otherwise have been precluded by the statute of limitations. In the wake of that action, this Office saw a number of lawsuits filed on older sex abuse claims that require a different level of research and discovery, especially with witnesses and records that may no longer be available. A panel of outside counsel firms has helped us meet the demands of that litigation.

Another trending area of litigation arising in the land use arena, where this Office does have some expertise in-house, but the additional partnership of outside counsel has proven to be necessary and in the best interests of the City particularly in light of the high stakes imposed on municipalities by changes in state housing laws (specifically the Housing Accountability Act, the Regional Housing Needs Assessment and the Builders Remedy provided by the State). And finally, Employment law--always the source of some of our greatest expenditures on outside counsel, particularly where class actions are involved--outside counsel is needed to provide the broad bench type of service that City Attorney internal resources do not afford. As such, this Office has seen an increase in expenditures for outside counsel of $15,781,795.12 in FY 23-24 million, up from the $1,764,858.37 in FY 19-20.

There are always circumstances where the retention of Outside Counsel will be necessary, and they can be very effective in the defense of the City. The data suggests, however, that it is more cost effective for the City to hire additional Deputy City Attorneys to handle litigation in-house whenever possible.

Section Three: Building Back the City Attorney's Office - Staffing Required for the Most Cost-Effective Handling of the City's Legal Issues

Organizational Overview

In general, the City Attorney's Office is organized into five branches and three proprietary departments, each of which plays a vital role in representing the City's legal interests across a wide variety of issues facing the City of Los Angeles. Each branch and proprietary department, along with the duties and responsibilities assigned to each, are outlined as follows:

1. Criminal Branch: The Criminal Branch is responsible for the prosecution of all misdemeanor crimes committed by adults within the City of Los Angeles and handles approximately 55,000+ criminal referrals each year.
2. Civil Litigation Branch: The Civil Litigation Branch is responsible for defending the City and its employees in civil litigation and handles all incoming non-writ civil litigation matters.

3. Municipal Branch: The Municipal Branch provides legal advice and representation to the City of Los Angeles and its offices, departments, and employees. That includes staffing public hearings, drafting ordinances, drafting and approving contracts, and enforcing administrative orders.
4. Real Estate Branch: The Real Estate Branch handles all legal matters related to real property located within the City of Los Angeles, including matters related to planning, land use, housing, and tenant's rights and advises and staffs the correlative departments, commissions and committees in the City – the three largest of which are Housing, Building & Safety, and Planning.
5. Public Rights Branch: The Public Rights Branch is responsible for all affirmative litigation in the office, bringing civil actions in the name of the People of the State of California as well as the City, prosecuting unfair business practices, nuisance abatement, environmental violations, contract disputes, and all matters cognizable under Business and Professions Code Section 17200.
6. Proprietaries
 - a. Department of Water and Power (DWP): Attorneys assigned to DWP provide all legal advice and services to the DWP, including specializing in the regulatory framework governing utilities, water and power. Although the DWP lawyers are part of the City Attorney's Office, their salaries are reimbursed by DWP.
 - b. Port of Los Angeles (POLA): Attorneys assigned to POLA provide all legal advice and services to the Port of Los Angeles, including specialized practices under the California Tidelands Trust and maritime law. Though the POLA lawyers and other personnel are part of the City Attorney's Office, their salaries are reimbursed by POLA.
 - c. Los Angeles World Airport (LAWA): Attorneys assigned to LAWA provide all legal advice and services to LAWA including LAX and Van Nuys. Though the LAWA lawyers and other personnel are part of the City Attorney's Office, their salaries are reimbursed by the proprietary.

Staffing Needs By Branch (Does Not Include Additional Positional Authority Required for Supervisory Positions and Promotions)

I. CRIMINAL BRANCH

Criminal Branch attorneys staff seven courthouses within the greater Los Angeles area, and prosecute misdemeanor crimes committed by adults in the City. The Branch has one Branch Chief and two Assistant Branch Chiefs, and is divided into the following divisions:

A. Filing Division: Attorneys assigned to this division review all reports submitted to our office for criminal filing decisions. These reports are submitted by law enforcement agencies including the Los Angeles Police Department, Los Angeles Sheriff's Department, California Highway Patrol, Los Angeles Airport Police, Los Angeles Port Police, Park Rangers, Department of Fish and Wildlife, and the District Attorney's Office.

(1) Workload: For Calendar Year 2024, this division reviewed over 59,000 submissions and filed over 20,500 criminal cases. The filing attorneys referred over 4,000 submissions for some type of diversion/alternative to prosecution. Approximately 30,000 submissions were rejected. In the first three months of this year, the division has reviewed over 20,000 submissions (representing a 16% increase over the same period from 2024) and filed over 7,000 criminal cases (representing a 13% increase over the same period last year).

In January of 2025, a new law (Penal Code § 741) went into effect that requires prosecutorial agencies to implement a process by which the initial review of most cases is performed based on information from which direct means of identifying the race of the suspect(s), victim(s), and witness(es) have been removed or redacted. This means that all information contained within a report that could suggest the suspect's race must be eliminated. The office is working on implementation of new software that will facilitate the redaction of these reports. Until that software is operational, our staff must manually redact all direct means of identifying race by hand. This is an extremely time-consuming process and, without additional personnel, causes delays in performing other work critical to Criminal Branch operations.

(2) Staffing: A single filing attorney can review on average 8-12 cases per day, depending on the complexity of each case. In light of the number of reports submitted for filing consideration, the Filing Division requires 30 full time attorneys and 4 staff. Currently, the filing division has 30 attorneys and 3 staff assigned to handle the workload.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 Legal Assistant.

B. Prosecution Division: This division is responsible for prosecuting all misdemeanor cases filed by our office. The attorneys and staff are assigned to staff two courthouses each in downtown Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley, and one each in West Los Angeles, Long Beach, and Hollywood. This division also has units focused on human trafficking, retail theft, and similar large-scale efforts to restore safety and security to our neighborhoods, and on driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol. This division also handles all appeals of misdemeanor cases.

(1) Workload: For Calendar Year 2024, this division prosecuted over 16,000 cases and conducted over 160 trials. For the current fiscal year, over 5,600 cases have been prosecuted and 55 trials have been conducted (a 2% and 10% increase, respectively, over the same period last year).

(2) Staffing: To properly staff this division, the office requires two attorneys at a minimum assigned to each courtroom in order to process the calendar of cases each day. Additional attorneys are required at each geographic location to research and file necessary motions, prepare cases for trial, and conduct jury trials. A staff of paralegals, legal assistants, legal clerks and legal secretaries are needed to process the criminal complaints, motions, subpoenas, and evidence and they, along with investigators and witness service coordinators, assist our attorneys as well as victims and witnesses in preparing for and proceeding through jury trials. Currently, there are 111 attorneys (with 10 open vacancies), and 83 staff (with 3 open vacancies).

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill all vacancies, add 9 attorneys (120 total), 1 Legal Assistant, 2 Legal Secretaries, 2 Legal Clerks and 2 investigators (90 total staff).

C. Regulatory Prosecution Division: This division prosecutes code enforcement cases for the City that are referred to and appropriate for criminal prosecution including building code violations, fire code violations, health code violations, animal cruelty cases, illegal cannabis operations, and nuisance properties. This division also prosecutes violations of the city tobacco retailer permits, and oversees the City's criminal administrative citation enforcement program. The goal of these enforcement efforts is to bring people and properties into compliance with legal requirements and hold accountable those who refuse.

(1) Workload: For Fiscal Year 2024, this division filed over 1,500 new code enforcement cases, and has filed 800 new cases so far in the current fiscal year. This in addition to investigating and enforcing hundreds of tobacco retailer permit violations and processing thousands of ACE citations each fiscal year.

(2) Staffing: This division currently has 22 attorneys and 15 staff (with 1 open vacancy) to manage the workload.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill the staff vacancy. The Office is considering whether additional staffing for this division is needed or whether civil remedies may be more appropriate for a number of the violations or misdemeanors.

D. Diversion, Outreach and Restorative Justice Division: This division is responsible for implementing programs that provide alternatives to traditional prosecution and aim to restore and rehabilitate persons who were originally considered for criminal prosecution. When filing attorneys determine that a particular person/suspect qualifies for some alternative to prosecution, that person's case is handled by this division. In addition, this division runs programs that provide assistance to victims of crimes in Los Angeles (whether a criminal case is filed or not) as well as to people experiencing homelessness or at risk of becoming homeless. This division also has specialized units that focus on children exposed to violence and child sexual abuse.

(1) Workload: For Fiscal Year 2023/2024, this division:

- Conducted over 6,000 City Attorney Hearings, diverting mostly first-time, non-violent misdemeanor offenders from the court and jail systems
- Engaged over 400 offenders in the Neighborhood Justice Program, which encourages community-based restorative justice in lieu of traditional prosecution and incarceration
- Diverted 15 misdemeanor defendants experiencing homelessness into supportive services
- Administered programs that provided outreach and supportive services to over 1,200 people experiencing homelessness
- Provided victim assistance services to over 9,000 victims of crimes

(2) Staffing: This division requires 6 attorneys and 56 staff to manage the workload. Currently there are 5 attorneys and 55 staff (including 2 open vacancies).

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill vacancies.

II. CIVIL LITIGATION BRANCH

The Civil Litigation Branch defends the City and its managers and employees against lawsuits brought in both state and federal court. The Branch has one Branch Chief, one Assistant Branch Chief, and is divided into the following divisions:

A. General Litigation Division: Attorneys with the General Litigation Division defend the City of Los Angeles and its employees in civil tort litigation, particularly in personal injury and property damage actions. The cases involve allegations of dangerous conditions of public property or negligence. The dangerous condition matters include roadway design, sewer backup, traffic engineering principles, trip and falls, potholes, and governmental immunities. The negligence matters primarily involve allegations of negligent driving by City employees that have resulted in traffic collisions.

(1) Workload: The average number of open cases this spring was 2323. Each trial attorney carried an average caseload of 83 cases. The ideal caseload per attorney is 30-45 cases, depending on the complexity of each. The paralegals collect all documents for production in discovery and otherwise support the attorneys at trial or other proceedings. The legal secretaries, principal clerks, and legal clerks manage the case files, file documents with both state and federal courts, and maintain the calendars of the attorneys.

(2) Staffing: 38 attorneys (6 law and motion, 2 supervisors, 30 trial attorneys—1 vacancy), 2 principal clerks, 20 Legal Secretaries (3 vacancies), 9 paralegals (2 vacancies), 1 legal clerk.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: All vacancies filled, plus 25 additional trial attorneys, 5 additional law and motion attorneys, 6 paralegals, 30 additional legal secretaries, and 1 additional legal clerk.

B. Police Litigation Unit: Attorneys in the Police Litigation Unit defend the City of Los Angeles and individual LAPD Officers in civil lawsuits alleging excessive use of force or other police misconduct. Largely, the cases assigned to the trial attorneys involve allegations of constitutional violations of the 1st, 4th and 14th Amendments, claims of excessive force, false arrest, illegal search and seizure, or other violations of civil rights. In addition to trying cases, trial attorneys are responsible for all pretrial phases of litigation, including law and motion, depositions and discovery, mediation, and frequent interaction with LAPD personnel.

(1) Workload: The average number of open cases this spring was 184, which resulted in an average caseload per trial attorney of 19. The ideal caseload per trial attorney is 10-15 depending on the complexity of each case. The law and motion attorneys file as many dispositive motions as their time will allow. The paralegals assist in case preparation, trial preparation, and assist the trial attorneys in trial. The legal secretaries and legal clerks maintain the case files, file documents in both state and federal court, and maintain the calendars for each attorney.

(2) Staffing: 16 attorneys (1 supervisor, 3 law and motion attorneys, 12 trial attorneys—2 vacancies), 4 paralegals, 1 principal clerk, 10 legal secretaries (1 vacancy), 1 legal clerk.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill all vacancies and add 4 additional attorneys, 1 additional paralegal, 2 additional legal secretaries, and 1 additional legal clerk.

C. Employment Litigation Division: Attorneys in the Employment Litigation Division defend City departments and individual City employees in employment litigation brought by current and former employees. The Division's practice is dominated by the need to defend the City in cases involving public safety employees (Police and Fire); however, the work includes a variety of cases from many City departments most notably Sanitation, Building & Safety, and Housing. Most of the litigation involves California state law employment theories, especially those arising under the Fair Employment and Housing Act ("FEHA") and Labor Code § 1102.5 (the whistleblower statute).

(1) Workload: The average number of open cases this spring was 215, which resulted in an average caseload per trial attorney of 15. The ideal caseload per trial attorney is 6-10 depending on the complexity of each case. In the last few years, a number of cases have been filed which include large numbers of plaintiffs, including one with over 800 LAPD officers, one with over 1100 LAFD firefighters and City-wide FLSA actions. Due to these cases, the volume of plaintiffs has risen from single plaintiff or small (under six) groups, to an average of 1,213 plaintiffs per case. The paralegals assist in case preparation and trial preparation. The legal secretaries and legal clerk (which the Division has not had for nearly a year) maintain the case files, file documents in both state and federal court, and maintain the calendars for each attorney. Some of these class action cases structurally will continue to require outside counsel assistance at least for the more active phases of litigation.

(2) Staffing: 16 attorneys (1 supervisor, 15 trial attorneys–2 vacancies), 7 paralegals, 1 legal assistant, 1 principal clerk, 6 legal secretaries, 1 legal clerk (1 vacancy).

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: All vacancies filled, plus 5 additional attorneys, 1 additional paralegal, 2 additional legal assistants, and 1 additional legal clerk.

D. Business & Complex Litigation Division: The Business & Complex Litigation Division is responsible for complex litigation matters involving a broad range of practice areas involving City policies and practices. The Division handles cases involving civil rights, the Americans with Disabilities Act, constitutional challenges to City ordinances, class actions, contract and business disputes, and a variety of other civil litigation against the City, its departments, and personnel.

(1) Workload: The average number of open cases this spring was 58, including multiple class action lawsuits, which resulted in an average caseload per trial attorney of 6. The ideal caseload per trial attorney is 4-8 depending on the complexity of each case. The paralegals assist in case preparation, trial preparation, and assist the trial attorneys in trial. The legal secretaries and legal clerks maintain the case files, file documents in both state and federal court, and maintain the calendars for each attorney.

(2) Staffing: The division has authority for 11 attorneys (1 supervisor and 10 trial attorneys), 2 paralegals, and 3 legal secretaries.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 additional attorney, 1 additional paralegal, and 1 additional legal secretary.

E. Workers' Compensation Division: The Workers' Compensation Division is responsible for defending the City in claims litigated before the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board. The Appeals Board is a State agency, which has the exclusive jurisdiction over disputed employee claims to benefits for injuries arising out of their City employment.

(1) Workload: The average number of open litigated claims this spring was 7129. Including pro per cases, there were in excess of 22,000 claims. The average caseload per trial attorney was 444 litigated claims. The ideal caseload per attorney is no more than 250-300 claims depending on the complexity of each case (i.e., sworn/civilian claims). The team of investigators gather information and investigate the nature of the claims. The administrative coordinator supervises a staff of approximately 36 employees, including legal secretaries, legal clerks, investigators and legal assistants.

(2) Staffing: 18 attorneys (1 vacancy), 1 administrative coordinator, 9 legal assistants (1 vacancy), 1 paralegal, 10 legal secretaries, 12 legal clerks, and 4 investigators.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: In addition to filling vacancies, the division needs 7 attorneys, 1 legal assistant, 2 legal secretaries, 2 legal clerks, and 2 investigators.

F. Claims and Risk Management Division: The Claims Division investigates and processes all personal injury and property damage claims filed against the City of Los Angeles, with the exception of the proprietary departments. In addition, the section is responsible for investigation and support of matters that are assigned to attorneys involved in litigation. The Supervising Attorney also assesses and evaluates the City Departments' liability payouts each year to assist in managing the risk of future liabilities.

(1) Workload: The unit is supervised by 1 attorney, and another attorney assigned to the General Litigation Division spends half of his time working with the Claims staff to resolve claims in an effort to avoid litigation.

(2) Staffing: 1.5 attorneys, 2 legal assistants, 2 administrative coordinators, 6 legal clerks (1 vacancy), 6 investigators.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill all vacancies, plus 1 attorney, 2 Senior Legal Clerks, 4 investigator IIs.

G. Civil Appellate Division: The Division handles appeals and writs arising out of civil litigation in a variety of areas. While this could include any case in which the City or its employees are sued, typical cases include the dangerous condition of public property, state and federal civil rights laws, including defending the City and police officers against claims of false arrest and excessive force, employment law, municipal law, constitutional law, City contracts, public health law, land use, real property, and housing law, and the California Public Records Act. The Division represents the City and occasionally the People of the State of California as both appellant and appellee in all civil matters, as amicus curiae in appeals that touch on areas of law with potential impact on the City and on issues of state-wide and nation-wide importance. The Division occasionally advises the City Council on legal issues. The attorneys in this Division practice primarily in the California Court of Appeal for the Second District and the Ninth Circuit, and occasionally the United States and California Supreme Courts. The attorneys in the Division also advise and assist the City's trial attorneys in significant pre and post-trial motions.

(1) Workload: The average number of open appeals this spring was 113, which resulted in an average caseload per appellate attorney of 19. The ideal caseload per appellate attorney is 8-10 depending on the timing of the briefs. The paralegals assist in case preparation by pulling documents related to the cases at the trial level. The legal secretaries maintain the case files, file documents in both state and federal court, and maintain the calendars for each attorney.

(2) Staffing: 7 attorneys (1 supervisor, 6 attorneys—1 vacancy), 2 legal secretaries,

- (a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill all vacancies, plus 1 additional attorney, and 1 paralegal.

III. MUNICIPAL BRANCH

The Municipal Law Branch provides legal advice and support to the majority of City departments and offices, including elected officials and City commissioners. The Branch includes multiple divisions, in which attorneys and support staff work together on behalf of client departments and offices. The Branch has one Branch Chief and one Assistant Branch Chief, and is divided into the following divisions:

A. General Counsel Division: This division serves as counsel to City officers and most general funded departments, including the Mayor, City Council, Controller, and the City Clerk along with Animal Services, the Convention Center, Cultural Affairs, the Department of Neighborhood Empowerment, El Pueblo de Los Angeles Historic Monument Authority, FilmLA, General Services, Information & Technology Agency, Library, Public Works and all of its bureaus, Recreation and Parks, Transportation, and the Zoo. Division attorneys also serve as counsel to the Commissions of the above-referenced Departments and Council Committees having subject matter jurisdiction over the work of those Departments. The General Counsel Division has one supervisor, and is broken into five teams:

(1) Community Services Group: The attorneys in the community services group act as general or primary counsel to various City departments as well as staffing various commissions and committees throughout the City. As general counsel/primary counsel for their respective departments and related commissions, the attorneys advise department executives, draft ordinances and contracts that involve department operations, staff relevant commission and committee meetings and related Brown Act bodies, research and investigate issues related to their department operations, and advise Council, commissions and other departments on matters that involve their respective department's operations. Set forth below are the attorney staffing needs of the group, including a brief description for each attorney.

(a) Workload: The team provides legal advice to the following departments: Animal Services, Zoo, El Pueblo De Los Angeles, Library, Recreation and Parks, and Information Technology Agency. The attorneys also provide ordinance review, consult on citywide homelessness issues, citywide First Amendment and public forum issues, special commissions, grant programs, special assessment programs, citywide technology and telecommunications regulatory matters, including being primary counsel to all citywide technology-related committees. The team leader supervises the team, and also staffs council meetings, assists on high profile and complex matters involving all of the departments.

(b) Staffing: 5 attorneys (plus 1 vacancy) and 1 legal secretary.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 DCA vacancy needs to be filled.

(2) Infrastructure Group: The infrastructure group is comprised of General Counsel to the Department of Public Works, including its Board of Public Works, five constituent bureaus (BCA, BOE, BSS, BSL and LASAN) and multiple offices (including CEMO, Office of Forest Management, OPNGAS, Film LA, and OCB) and the Department of Transportation (LADOT). The Bureau of Sanitation (LASAN) and LADOT reimburse this Office for at least some of the current staff of attorneys.

(a) Workload: The team leader supervises the team. The attorneys work with elected officials, their staff, Bureau executives and Board members and provide legal advice, draft ordinances, attend administrative hearings, manage administrative orders and/or enforcement matters, oversee and/or manage multiple complex and high exposure litigation matters.

(b) Staffing: 8 attorneys and 1 legal secretary.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: none

(3) Economic Development Group: The attorneys in the Economic Development Group advise on City-supported economic development projects, including those involving the successor agency to the CRA, and their project-based financing programs.

(a) Workload: The team leader supervises the team. The attorneys handle real estate development projects, federally funded grant programs, development-related grant and loan programs overseen by the Economic and Workforce Development Department (EWDD), other transactional work for EWDD, CPRA document review assistance, hotel/tax incentive matters, Surplus Land Act matters, and additional development work as needed.

(b) Staffing: This team requires 3 attorneys and 1 legal secretary to manage its workload.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 Legal Secretary vacancy needs to be filled.

(4) Outside Counsel Oversight Group: The Outside Counsel Oversight Division responsible for managing the procurement, retention, contracting, budgeting, and all other matters related to outside counsel engaged by the City Attorney's Office, whether general funded or for the proprietary departments.

(a) Workload: This group has seen a significant increase in workload, commensurate with the increased use of outside counsel. The Outside Counsel Oversight group, currently staffed with one attorney and one paralegal in general funded positions, manages 32 active General Funded law firm contracts, 15 Special Funded law firm contracts, and 38 Real Party in Interest law firm contracts all for Council-controlled departments. The group, with the additional support of two proprietary-funded administrative coordinator positions, also manages 38 active contracts for which monthly invoices are processed for DWP. At DWP, there have been 8 new agreements and 5 contract amendments this fiscal year alone. Separately, LAWA has about 32 active contracts under management and the Harbor Department has about 22 active contracts, with the accompanying monthly invoices for each of those.

In addition, the current staff process nearly 140 invoices per month while responding to requests for information from offices and departments. The attorney negotiates and processes several new contracts and contract amendments per quarter (31 in the past six months): drafting and releasing RFPs, reviewing responses with the responsible attorneys, then presenting to BFI Committee and Council meetings for their approval. There has also been a significant upswing in CPRA requests related to outside counsel and in reviewing and processing conflict waiver requests given the complexity of work being handled by an increasing number of outside firms.

(b) Staffing: This team requires 2 attorneys, 3 administrative coordinators (currently funded by each of the proprietary departments), 1 paralegal, and 2 legal assistants to manage its workload.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 attorney position, 1 administrative coordinator position and 2 Legal Assistant positions are vacant and need to be filled and an additional paralegal is required to manage the volume.

(5) Neighborhood Council Advice Group: This group advises 99 Neighborhood Council (NC) Boards, as well as over 1000 Neighborhood Council Committees. This group advises the City Clerk Neighborhood Council Funding Division and oversees NC expenditures and reviews and approves all contracts for the 99 NCs. NCAD also advises the City Clerk Elections Division and The Department of Neighborhood Empowerment (DONE). The attorneys staff and advise the Board of Neighborhood Commissioners (BONC), which meets 2 times per month. In addition to staffing the BONC meetings, NCAD assists the Commission in creating NC policies. This group drafts all ordinances related to the NC system and advises the City Clerk, DONE, BONC and all of the NCs on the California Public Records Act, The Brown Act, Ethics/ Conflict of Interests and other matters related to Equal Protection and the First Amendment.

(a) Workload: The team leader serves as general counsel to DONE while overseeing policy and protocols for the group, reviewing contracts and drafting ordinances, tracking legislative changes that affect daily operations, and interfacing with other City department heads on NC matters. Fully staffed, the attorneys are assigned as general counsel to approximately 30 NCs and provide several training opportunities for their assigned NCs. These positions are ideally staffed by attorneys who have prior litigation experience and also have advanced knowledge of Ethics and Brown Act issues. Drafting training materials and ordinances is also part of the assigned duties. The paralegal processes the hundreds of assignments/inquiries that NCAD receives per week and tracks common issues shared among the NCs. In addition to tracking the workload, this position prepares training materials and assists with legal research.

(b) Staffing: This team requires 4 attorneys and 1 paralegal; currently there is 1 attorney vacancy and 1 paralegal vacancy.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill vacancies.

B. Public Safety General Counsel Division: The attorneys in this division serve as general counsel to the Police Department (LAPD), Fire Department (LAFD) and the Emergency Management Department (EMD) and provide legal advice to the Board of Fire Commissioners, the Fire Chief, the Board of Police Commissioners, Commission Executive Director, Police Chief and Inspector General. The division is supervised by a Senior Assistant City Attorney, and is divided into the following sections:

(1) Police/Fire/EMD General Counsel Section

(a) Workload: Attorneys in this section advise the LAPD, LAFD, and EMD on legal issues involving constitutional law, criminal law and procedure, civil liability, municipal law, administrative law and labor law. Attorneys provide assistance and advice on police, fire, and emergency management operations and policy issues; draft City ordinances; staff and advise the Board of Police Commissioners, Board of Fire Commissioners, City Council Committees and the City Emergency Operations Board, including advice on legal issues under consideration by those commissions/committees. Attorneys may also provide advice on the open meeting requirements of the Brown Act and the disclosure requirements of the California Public Records Act.

(b) Staffing: This team requires 9 attorneys, 1 paralegal, and 2 legal secretaries to manage its workload.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 attorney position is vacant and needs to be filled.

(2) Gun Violence Restraining Orders Section

(a) Workload: The attorneys create and update GVRO training materials; provide regular trainings to LAPD sworn personnel; meet with officers to review evidence and prepare necessary declarations; file GVRO petitions at various courts throughout the City; handle CPRA writs and other assignments as needed; interact with outside agencies; provide GVRO information to other City departments and outside organizations.

(b) Staffing: This team requires 2 attorneys, and 1 Administrative Coordinator to manage its workload.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: none

(3) Police Community Unification Program

(a) Workload: This Administrative Coordinator works closely with LAPD Internal Affairs to obtain information on complaints that qualify for the mediation program; prepare training material and information about the program; recruit and work with volunteer mediators; coordinate and schedule mediations; serve as mediation facilitator; track mediations and outcomes; maintain statistics; prepare reports as requested.

(b) Staffing: 1 Administrative Coordinator

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: none

(4) Police Discovery Section

(a) Workload: This team works closely with LAPD to assist with and respond to discovery issues in both civil and criminal cases. They draft oppositions to Pitchess motions and other discovery motions and subpoenas that seek LAPD personnel information. They also draft motions to quash subpoenas, make court appearances in state and federal courts throughout the county, handle return of property motions, and prepare and file motions for blood draws when officers are exposed to blood or other infectious material.

(b) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team requires 6 attorneys, 1 principal clerk, 3 legal secretaries, and 1 legal clerk.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 2 attorney positions and 1 legal secretary position are vacant and need to be filled.

(5) Police Advocate Section

(a) Workload: This team works closely with LAPD Internal Affairs, LAPD management and sworn advocates on matters involving police misconduct investigations and discipline; participate in IA case meetings; serve as LAPD advocates in disciplinary Board of Rights administrative hearings; prepare legal briefs and other pleadings; assist LAPD with other administrative appeals; defend petitions for writ of mandamus seeking to reverse discipline imposed.

(b) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team requires 5 attorneys and 1 legal secretary.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: none

C. Labor Relations Division: The division attorneys provide direct employment, personnel, human resources, and labor advice to the CAO, the Mayor, the City Attorney, the Controller, and all Council offices, as well as all Department general managers with the exception of the proprietaries and the LAPD. They handle select union matters before the Employee Relations Board (ERB), including hearings, as needed, with particular emphasis on citywide issues. They provide Workplace Violence assessments and prevention advice, as needed, in conjunction with Lead Workplace Violence Prevention attorney, and advise City management on major labor and employment issues, such as strikes, layoffs, impasse, and the impacts of new legislation or federal or state action. These attorneys review and approve personnel related ordinances and contracts for legality. The division is supervised by an Assistant City Attorney who assigns workloads, handles all administrative matters for the division, and staffs the Executive Employee Relations Committee (EERC) headed by the Mayor.

(1) Workload: These attorneys advise the Civil Service Commission (CSC), the Fire Department, and all City departments except the LAPD on labor and employment matters. They participate in weekly Professional Standards Division (PSD) personnel meetings with PSD staff and the Fire Chief. They conduct arbitrations, and handle personnel related writs in superior court, and any related appeals. Handles matters before the ERB. They also manage the City Attorney's Office's Workplace Violence Unit, and provide workplace violence prevention advice on an ongoing basis to over 40 City departments. They also staff the City Council's Personnel Committee.

(2) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team requires 11 attorneys, 2 paralegals, 2 legal secretaries, and 1 administrative coordinator.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: 2 DCA vacancies need to be filled plus 1 additional attorney, 1 paralegal and 1 clerk.

D. Worker's Rights Division: Attorneys in this division advise the Bureau of Contract Administration's Office of Wage Standards (OWS) on all administrative investigations from intake of complaints, issuance of a Notice to Correct, defending the findings in an administrative hearing, etc. The OWS enforces several regulatory worker protection and wage and hour ordinances including the Minimum Wage, Fair Work Week, Freelance Worker Protection, Hotel Worker Protection, and Fair Chance Initiative.

(1) Workload: In serving as advisor on all matters involving workers' rights and protections, the attorneys in the Division provide advice on many issues, such as statutory and Constitutional interpretation and application of various worker protection laws, including but not limited to the City Minimum Wage Ordinance, Fair Work Week, Fair Chance Initiative, Freelance Worker Protection, Misclassification under the ABC Test, and others related labor laws. The attorneys in the Division also advise the Bureau of Contract Administration's implementation and enforcement of social policies required of City Contractors. These include the Living Wage Ordinance, Bid Preference policies, Business Certifications, Prevailing Wage and Labor Peace Agreements. In addition, the attorneys work directly with City Council offices in researching legality, drafting and implementing new local laws that provide workers in the private sector in the City of Los Angeles with additional rights and protections. On occasion, the attorneys advise on the Public Records Act, Ralph M. Brown Act, and liability assessment and risk management matters. Additionally, the attorneys in Workers' Rights Division assist on specialized litigation and administrative proceedings relating to enforcement of City ordinances and in furtherance of combatting wage theft across the City.

(2) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team requires 8 attorneys, 1 legal secretary, 1 legal assistant and 1 administrative coordinator.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: 3 DCA vacancies need to be filled, as well as 1 administrative coordinator vacancy.

E. Cannabis Advice, Law & Litigation Division: These positions are funded by the Department of Cannabis Regulation (DCR) Special Revenue Fund (60E)*. These attorneys handle all legal matters and provide legal advice to the DCR, including on the City's cannabis licensing and social equity programs.

(1) Workload: Some of these attorneys handle litigation, and defend the DCR in writs of mandate and complaints for damages and/or injunctive relief in state and federal courts. Other attorneys handle administrative issues, including the issuance of notices of violation, license revocation, and license suspension orders. These attorneys are also Brown Act counsel for bimonthly Cannabis Regulation Commission meetings, and provide legal advice to the DCR.

(2) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team currently has 5 attorneys, 1 paralegal and 1 legal secretary.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: None

(b) *The DCR fund has a significant budget shortfall this year and is now adjusting its fees and overhead costs. If necessary, the division could manage with one less attorney and without the paralegal. In the event this occurs, the unit would be: 3 DCAs III, 1 DCA II, and 1 Legal Secretary III; the unit would be functional with less staff than this. During the 2020-21 hiring freeze, CALLS had only 3 attorneys and they required litigation assistance from a number of non-CALLS attorneys to manage the caseload.

F. Community Law Corps (CLC): Each attorney handles complaints, questions and legal issues that arise in their assigned Council Districts, including obtaining nuisance abatement warrants and receiverships, working with the County on conservatorship referrals, referring matters for zoning hearings, and other time-sensitive legal work. Many of the CLC projects involve not only multiple City agencies or departments, but the projects frequently include County or State agencies.

(1) Workload: The staffing ideally would allow one attorney to be assigned to two Council Districts. Currently, each of the 3 attorneys covers 5 Council Districts; the ACA supervises the unit and handles specially-assigned projects and priority assignments. At the present time, each attorney works with an Administrative Coordinator to handle intakes, referrals, research and reports. The sixth AC would handle intakes, assist in answering questions from the public, run reports and maintain the database.

(2) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team should have 8 attorneys, and 8 administrative coordinators—2 of which would manage the Dispute Resolution Program (DRP) (Grant Funded)

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: 5 attorneys and 2 administrative coordinators to reach the needed staffing levels outlined above.

G. Public Pensions General Counsel: All positions are reimbursed with pension trust funds so there is ultimately zero General Fund impact to fill vacancies, promote or add head count. The Public Pensions General Counsel Division serves as general counsel to the three Los Angeles City retirement plans, which cumulatively invest more than $70 billion in trust funds and administer retirement and healthcare benefits as fiduciaries for City retirees and their beneficiaries. Division attorneys work closely with the pension boards of commissioners (Boards), executive management, and staff of the Los Angeles City Employees' Retirement System (LACERS), the Los Angeles Fire and Police Pension plan (LAFPP), and the Water and Power Employees' Retirement Plan (WPERP).

(1) Workload: Division attorneys: (1) advise on complex and diverse areas of law including fiduciary and ethical duties, conflicts of interest, the California Public Records Act, the Ralph M. Brown Act, California and federal constitutional law, plan benefits and administration, interpretation of City Charter and Administrative Code provisions, real estate and investment transactions, trust and probate law, tax law, securities law, health care law, and data privacy and cybersecurity law; (2) draft contracts, City legislation, and administrative policies; (3) represent the plans in litigation, including defending against petitions for writs of mandamus and civil lawsuits challenging Board actions and affirmatively prosecuting securities fraud and corporate derivative actions; (4) regularly participate in commission and committee meetings, including presenting in open and closed session, providing Board education on legal topics, and assisting the Boards to conduct disability retirement hearings; and (5) assist the plans to serve their members by resolving legal issues and reviewing documents that affect members' retirement benefits, including trust, dissolution, and probate documents.

(2) Staffing: To manage the workload, this team requires 6 attorneys, 1 Administrative Coordinator, and half of a legal secretary (who shares their workload with Complex Litigation).

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: One attorney vacancy needs to be filled.

H. Public Procurement & Contracting Division: The Public Procurement and Contracting Division serves as contracting and procurement counsel to various City offices and departments, including the Mayor, City Council, City Attorney, Controller, City Administrative Officer and its Office of Procurement, City Clerk, Chief Legislative Analyst, Civil + Human Rights and Equity Department, Department of Building and Safety, Department of City Planning, Personnel Department, Convention Center, Los Angeles Fire Department, Los Angeles Police Department, Emergency Management Department, and General Services Department.

(a) Workload: Division attorneys also provide advice on HIPAA and manage contracting for major special events, such as the Olympics, World Cup, Super Bowl; NBA All-Star Game, and the Academy Awards. If responsibilities remain at their current levels, the Public Procurement and Contract Division will be fully staffed once a DCA III fills the current green sheeted position for Cyber Security and HIPAA, and if a new Legal Assistant or Paralegal is added to support the attorneys.

(b) Staffing: The team requires 10 attorneys and 3 legal assistants/paralegals to get their job done.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: Vacancies for 1 attorney and 1 paralegal need to be filled. Based on current workload, the team will need an additional 2 attorneys and a legal clerk going forward.

I. Human Services & Access Division: Attorneys in the Human Services and Access Division serve as general counsel to the Civil + Human Rights and Equity Department (CHRED), the Department of Disability, the Economic and Workforce Development Department, the Department of Aging, the Youth Development Department, the Community Investment For Families Department and numerous commissions and boards, including the Commission on Civil Rights, the Commission on the Status of Women, the Human Relations Commission, the Reparations Advisory Commission, the Commission on Community and Family Services, the Domestic Violence Alliance, the Innovation and Performance Commission, the Commission on Disability, the City Health Commission, and the Workforce Development Board.

(a) Workload: The team advises on a variety of grant matters for the City Attorney's Office, the Mayor's Office, and Council Offices; staffs and advises City Council Committees related to subject matter expertise (Civil Rights, Equity, Immigration, Aging and Disability/CREIAD and Ad Hoc L.A. Recovery) and handles related special projects; serves as the Equity Officer and oversee internal initiatives such as the Equity Panel in coordination with Executive and Human Resources; partners with other City Offices and Departments on strategies and initiatives to facilitate equal access to City programs and services.

(b) Staffing: The team requires 5 attorneys and 1 legal assistant to get their job done.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: Vacancies for 3 attorneys need to be filled.

J. Public Finance Division: This team advises the Office of Finance, the City Clerk, CAO, and all city departments on issues related to public finance, city taxes, and bonds.

(a) Workload: Advise Office of Finance (Finance) and departments on various tax matters; advise Finance on contract matters; assist with litigation disclosures; advise City Deferred Compensation Plan on various matters (incl. contracts and plan governance); advise Benefits Division of Personnel Office (incl. contracts); Staff Deferred Comp and Joint Labor-Management Benefit Committees and serve as back-up staff for committees (as needed); advise on assessment districts (as needed); prepare Finance approved refund claims over $50k; provide federal and state income (and sales) tax advice to Controller, departments, and our Office; advise City Clerk and departments on City assessment districts (incl. litigation if necessary and ordinances); advise departments on Prop 218 and fees; advise Finance and departments on tax related matters (incl. draft ordinance and tax measures); defend City against taxpayer refund lawsuits; staff and agenda support for BFI; prepare Finance approved refund claims over $50k; advise Finance on CPRA questions; coordinate and connect with outside counsel on ULA litigation.

(b) Staffing: The team requires 10 attorneys, 1 paralegal and 3 legal secretaries to get their job done.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: Vacancies for 1 attorney and 1 legal secretary need to be filled.

IV. REAL ESTATE BRANCH

The Real Estate Branch advises City departments, elected officials and staff on transactional and litigation matters that involve land use, housing, homelessness, environmental law, and real estate. The Real Estate Branch has one Branch Chief and one Assistant Branch Chief, and includes the following teams of attorneys and support staff working collaboratively to provide excellent service to our clients:

A. Real Property & Environment Division: The Real Property & Environment Division (RP&E) performs both transactional and litigation work regarding real estate and environmental matters. The Division's litigation work focuses on eminent domain, inverse condemnation, real property damage, unlawful detainer, landlord-tenant issues, quiet title, and environmental matters, including the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and other state and federal laws concerning toxic contamination of real property. The Division's transactional work includes negotiating, drafting, and reviewing real estate documents (e.g., leases, licenses, entry permits, purchase and sale agreements, deeds, and easements) for the entire City, except for the proprietary departments. In addition, RP&E provides legal advice and services to the Mayor, the City Council, and various City departments on a broad range of topics, including issues relating to the City's ownership, acquisition, disposal and use of real property, CEQA, hazardous waste, hazardous materials assessment and remediation, and the Coastal Act.

(1) Workload: The caseloads for the attorneys recently doubled due to the adverse effects of the rains, floods and wildfires. Currently, the attorneys handling the inverse condemnation cases are managing 19 to 20 cases each. The ideal caseload per attorney is 7-10 cases, depending on the complexity of each case. Inverse cases are resource and time intensive because they are expert-heavy, highly technical, discovery-intensive, involve multiple parties, concern failing older hillsides and infrastructure, and expose the City to millions of dollars of liability and statutorily awarded attorneys' fees for prevailing plaintiffs in each of the cases.

(2) Staffing: RP&E currently has 15 attorneys: 7 transactional, 3 environmental, and 5 litigation attorneys. There is also one paralegal in the division. The division has 8 legal secretaries, and 1 legal clerk which are shared with the Land Use Division. When DWP work is absorbed by RP&E the ideal staffing would be 24 attorneys (2 of those would be supervising attorneys), 1 support staff supervisor, 2 paralegals, and 9 legal secretaries and 1 legal clerk (support staff positions will continue to be shared with the Land Use Division).

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: The most urgent needs for RP&E are backfills for the supervising attorney who retired last year and for the vacant support staff supervisor position (Principal Clerk). The section also needs 2 additional litigation attorneys and 1 paralegal.

B. Housing Division: The Housing Division serves as counsel to the Los Angeles Housing Department (LAHD) and handles a wide variety of litigation and housing-related matters including the Rent Stabilization Ordinance (RSO), Tenant Anti-Harassment Ordinance (TAHO), Housing Code, Accessibility Compliance Housing Program, the Tenant Habitability Program and other LAHD programs. Housing Division attorneys also work on residential and housing bond issuances, affordable housing and land use covenants and financings, and loans and services affecting federally-funded and other publicly-funded programs in the City. Litigation matters include enforcement of the RSO, loan portfolio loss mitigation, writ proceedings on administrative decisions, REAP proceedings, replacement unit enforcement, and eviction moratorium challenges. Housing Division attorneys also serve as counsel to the Community Investment for Families Department and the Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority.

(1) Workload: The ideal caseload is 8-10 cases per litigator, and the ideal workload for transactional attorneys is 10-15 loans/transactions at a time. While it is difficult to assess the volume of litigation work based solely on the number of cases or transactions due to the variety of matters handled by Housing Division, there are two attorneys presently handling 15 litigation matters each, and seven attorneys presently handling 15 or more transactional matters each.

(2) Staffing: The Housing Division currently has 16 lawyers (including 1 part-time contract attorney) – 5 attorneys handle litigation, transactional and advice work, while 11 others are dedicated transactional attorneys.

- (a) Additional Staffing Needed: 3 attorneys - 1 for complex land development deals; 1 for enforcement of Occupancy Monitoring violations and 1 for enforcement.

C. Land Use Division: The Land Use Division provides operational advice, legislation drafting, and litigation services that support the City's primary development approval functions in Planning and Building & Safety (LADBS) and staffs the many appointed commissions and boards that are related to those departments. In this current environment, Land Use provides critical legal services that directly contribute to the approval of housing units, and defend the City's actions on housing projects and Planning-related matters. As more affordable housing projects move through the system, Land Use attorneys defend the City's actions on those projects from claims by private parties and state regulatory agencies like the Housing and Community Development Department and the Coastal Commission. Land Use Division handles writ work as well as third party discovery in development disputes, and regular damages/discovery litigation where the City and its employees are named. Land Use also handles many of its own appeals.

(1) Workload: The ideal caseload for Land Use attorneys is 8-10 cases litigation cases only; or 8-10 new legislation or longer-term advice assignments only. Currently most attorneys have both a litigation caseload of 10-12 active matters, in addition to an advice list of 10-15 matters. Eight attorneys also staff and advise the appointed boards and commissions, including the City and area planning commissions. The workload also significantly increased in the current environment as the City is preparing for the Olympics, and dealing with Fire related abatement and rebuilding matters.

(2) Staffing: Land Use currently has a total of 17 attorneys – 11 attorneys split their time between litigation and advice, and 6 attorneys primarily handle litigation. Land Use needs another litigation attorney to defend challenges (unindemnified) to citywide practices such as Council/PLUM practices, ITA/records practices, Planning/LADBS practices, Policies/actions of PW, LAHD, and other departments. that are tied into Planning/LADBS review.

- (a) Additional Staffing Needed: Backfills are needed to fill 6 attorney vacancies. 2 additional attorneys are needed, along with 1 additional paralegal. Land Use shares its support staff with RP&E as previously indicated and will need 1 additional legal secretary and 1 paralegal to assist both.

V. PUBLIC RIGHTS BRANCH

The Public Rights Branch pursues civil enforcement matters, including complex, high impact matters, focusing on a variety of areas including unfair business and housing practices, wage theft, environmental protection, consumer protection, nuisance abatement and cannabis regulation. The branch uses a variety of statutory authorities, including the Unfair Competition Law, the False Advertising Law, the Public Nuisance Law and various Health & Safety Code regulations. The branch also pursues False Claims Act and other civil claims, and engages in debt collection for the City.

- A. Workload: Given the nature of the branch's work it is difficult to quantify the existing or ideal workload of branch attorneys. Most attorneys have at least a couple of ongoing litigation matters, while also balancing several ongoing investigations. The size of these litigation matters can vary substantially. For example, some litigation matters—such as the City's suit against GLAZA seeking the return of roughly $50 million the Zoo claims is being wrongly held from it—are so large that they require several attorneys to spend nearly their entire time on them. Other litigation matters are smaller, and do not fully occupy an attorney's time. The same goes for investigations. A few of our attorneys have been investigating more than 1,000 complaints of price gouging following the fires. Other investigations are larger, and more complex, creating a substantial demand on an attorney's time. Finally, the branch is undertaking innovative methods to recovering obligations owed to the City and to dealing with some of the more intractable problems regarding violations of the short-term rental, home sharing, and tenant harassment ordinances as well as pursuing illegal cannabis establishments.
- B. Staffing: The branch currently has one interim branch chief, 3 supervising attorneys, and 18-line attorneys, as well as 1 support staff supervisor, 1 assistant staff supervisor, 5 paralegals, 5 legal secretaries, 2 investigators and 1 legal clerk. There are currently two unfilled attorney vacancies.

(1) Additional Staffing Needed: To handle the workload, 8 additional line attorneys are needed. This would allow us to have two additional attorneys focusing on each of our main practice areas (i.e., Consumer/Impact, Wage Theft, Environmental and Nuisance Abatement). While this number may sound like a lot, it reflects the historical numbers of the various previously existing divisions that now make up the Public Rights Branch. When fully staffed, Affirmative Litigation had 8 attorneys, CNAP had 10, Consumer had 9, and Environmental Justice had 6, for a total of 33 attorneys. The branch would also need to fill the attorney vacancies. Finally, the branch needs to have authorization for a Chief position and an Assistant City Attorney or Senior ACA as Assistant Branch Chief.

VI. PROPRIETARIES

A. DEPARTMENT OF WATER AND POWER

(1) Litigation Team: The Litigation Team handles high exposure litigation, including wrongful death, catastrophic injuries, inverse condemnation, insurance subrogation and more.

- (a) Workload: The workload of the Litigation Team has increased due to the Palisades and other local wildfires. Properly staffing the Litigation Team is a cost-effective way to decrease dependence on outside counsel. The Team is currently managing their workload with 2 attorney vacancies.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: The 2 attorney vacancies need to be filled.

(2) Water Team: The attorneys working for the Water Team offer full service legal services, including litigation, transactional and regulatory work. The attorneys assist LADWP with issues arising under a myriad of federal, state, and local environmental laws and regulations, including the California Water Code, Fish and Game Code, and Health and Safety Code; the California Environmental Quality Act (“CEQA”); the Clean Water Act; the Safe Drinking Water Act; the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act; the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act; the Endangered Species Act, and the Clean Air Act. Additionally, the Supervising Attorney advises DWP on niche water rights issues, and is the City’s expert on these matters. Further, the Section advises on many unique, often politically sensitive, issues in the Owens Valley, including matters involving the local Tribes. Handling these issues not only requires the requisite legal knowledge, but also extensive knowledge of the history of the City’s involvement in the Owens Valley and familiarity with the local parties.

(a) Workload: The demand on the lawyers on the Water Team is heavy. Recent regulatory action relating to the City’s Scattergood Generating Plant (the only in-basin power generating station) under the Clean Water Act and the transition to greater reliance on green energy adds to the environmental and water law duties performed by the team. The recent downgrade of the LADWP bond ratings has also caused additional work for the Power Team.

(b) Staffing: Currently 4 lawyers

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: None

(3) Power Team: The attorneys on the Power Team advise on the LADWP’s public bond financing, including drafting joint power agreements with other government entities. The team advises on myriad regulatory issues, including California and Federal regulations relating to the Energy Imbalance and Enhanced Day-Ahead markets. The team guides LADWP through the purchase and sale of power. The Power Team advises on all aspects of LADWP power rates and legal limitations on those rates.

(a) Workload: The workload of the Power Team has increased as the LADWP transitions to 100% clean energy (transitioning away from fossil fuels), requiring a lawyer with specialized expertise to navigate the complex regulatory landscape, compliance with federal, state, and local laws governing energy procurement, renewable portfolio standards, and wholesale energy trading has become increasingly complex. The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission alone enforces over 500 mandatory reliability standards, with penalties reaching $1 million per violation per day. Additional state regulations mandate greenhouse gas reductions, coal divestiture, energy storage, wildfire mitigation, and cybersecurity.

(b) Staffing: Currently 6 lawyers

- (i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 additional attorney is needed to provide legal counsel on regulatory and energy matters, including:
 - compliance with federal and state regulatory agencies, including the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, California Public Utilities Commission, California Energy Commission and California Air Resources Board.
 - renewable and conventional energy projects, energy storage, greenhouse gas regulations, hydro-licensing, commodities trading, wholesale power transactions, and cybersecurity.
 - planning, development, financing, acquisition, interconnection, and operation of energy projects.

(4) Contracts and Procurement Team: The Contract and Procurement team provides transaction support to the LADWP on a wide range of power, water, and real estate transactions, procurement processes and contracts. The attorneys in the Contracts and Procurement Team negotiate and draft purchase and sale agreements, contracts, leases, licenses, easements and financing instruments. The attorneys advise on procurement, contracts, property management, landlord-tenant and boundary disputes relating to LADWP's vast real property fee and easement ownership throughout California.

- (a) Workload: The demands on the attorneys in the team have substantially increased due to several factors, including (1) LADWP's increase in hiring staff and the filling of vacant positions department-wide, including LADWP's Real Estate Services; (2) the ramping up of large-scale projects, including LADWP's Pure Water Los Angeles, LA100, the Scattergood and Harbor Station modernization projects, massive infrastructure relocations necessitated by MTA's ESFV light rail transit expansion and Sepulveda Transit Corridor projects, and ongoing property acquisitions through both voluntary processes and condemnation proceedings necessary to support LADWP's projects; (3) changes to sole sourcing review and approval of contracts, (4) expiration of outside counsel contracts in early 2024, which required several matters to be transitioned to in-house lawyers, and (5) the Palisades Fire.

- (b) Staffing: 3 lawyers

- (i) Additional Staffing Needed: The team needs 1 additional attorney vacancy to be filled

(5) Cybersecurity/CPRA/Customer: Service/Collection/Bankruptcy Team: The multifaceted CCCC&B team handles critical work relating to the protection of the City's vital infrastructure from hostile attacks and also protects LADWP customers from criminal hacking.

- (a) Workload: The group assists the LADWP with legal issues relating to CPRA demands, which have increased due to the recent wildfires. The unit handles collection and bankruptcy matters as well. The workload of the unit has increased because the City brought much of the remaining litigation stemming from the billing scandal after receiving a $1.5 million dollar budget estimate from outside counsel.

(b) Staffing: 3 Lawyers.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: None.

(6) Ethics and Transparency: The attorney in this position handles issues related to City and State conflicts of interest and transparency laws.

(a) Workload: The assigned attorney also supports a full caseload from the Power team. Adding an additional attorney will ensure more timely advice to the client. Moreover, a second lawyer would enable the LADWP to quickly develop a Code of Conduct and expand ethics training, as well as to regularly update the Conflict of Interest Code.

(b) Staffing: Currently 1 attorney.

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: 1 attorney.

(7) Employee Relations Team: The attorneys assigned to this team advise and represent LADWP on any and all labor and employment law matters.

(a) Workload: This team is responsible for a) representing LADWP in all phases of labor and employment litigation, including trials in state and federal court as well as appeals b) providing advice on state and federal labor and employment law matters, including statutes and regulations governing employee relations, discrimination, civil rights, and related matters; c) representing LADWP in administrative matters and hearings; and d) other varied and miscellaneous employment-related matters; interacting with and advising the LADWP Board, LADWP Executive Management, the Systems (Power, Water, and Joint), and various divisions (Health Benefits, Payroll, Family Care Office, Human Resources, Labor Relations Office, and Equal Employment Opportunity Services; reviewing EEO-related investigation reports and findings; advising on disability-related reasonable accommodation policies and procedures; serving as legal advisor on DWP's Administrative Manual Committee; the Discharge Review Committee, the Investigation Review Committee, and the DWP Board's Personnel Relations Committee; advising on workplace violence matters, assisting with responses to charges of discrimination filed with state and federal administrative agencies; advising on various leave policies; responding to claims filed under the California Government Claims Act that involve employment matters; reviewing and advising on responses to California Public Record Act requests that involve employment records; assisting DWP's Labor Relations Office with grievance arbitrations, unfair employment relation practices (UERP) claims and discipline in civil service commission (CSC) hearings, and handling related writ actions.

(b) Staffing: Currently 5 lawyers.

(i) Additional Staffing needed: 1 additional attorney is needed.

(8) Workers' Compensation Team:

(a) Workload: The workers' compensation attorneys handle a large caseload of over 500 files, which generate a vast amount of paperwork, including pleadings, notices of hearing, medical/legal appointments and record requests as well as voluminous correspondence.

(b) Staffing: Currently 4 lawyers

(i) Additional Staffing Needed: Backfill the supervisor position plus 1 additional attorney, 1 legal assistant (needed to streamline the workflow of the section by being the "gatekeeper," reviewing the incoming documents, handling routine matters, responding to routine correspondence and assigning tasks to secretarial staff. In addition, the legal assistant could ease the workflow of the attorneys by handling simpler matters such as Notices of Representation, Answers to Applications, Lien Affidavits, etc., as well as preparing rough drafts of settlement documents to assist the attorneys in moving cases expeditiously toward resolution.

B. PORT OF LOS ANGELES

The Port of Los Angeles (POLA) Division handles all legal matters for the Board of Harbor Commissioners, the Los Angeles Harbor Department, and Harbor Department management and staff. Division attorneys routinely handle litigation and disputes, and other matters arising in the following areas: Commercial Landlord Tenant/Eviction law; Regulatory, including California Environmental Quality Act, National Environmental Policy Act, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act, Recovery Conservation and Recovery Act, Clean Water Act, the Tidelands Trust and the California Coastal Act); commercial transactions and competitive solicitations for construction, real estate and other opportunities at the Port; Insurance coverage under liability and other forms of specialized policies; Employment and personnel matters; Tariff setting rates and charges and operating rules for the Harbor Department facilities; Bond work; Tort and contract claims not covered by insurance; Municipal governance and legal issues relating to City Charter and Administrative Code, California Public Records Act, and Brown Act; Real Estate transactional, typically relating to leasing the property the Port holds in trust for the State; Transactional/Contracting/Financial/Business, relative to construction and service contracts; and Risk Management, including insurance policies, claims and workers' compensation.

(1) Workload: The Port of Los Angeles consists of 7500 acres and 43 miles of waterfront. The twelve lawyers currently on staff are extremely busy handling the issues and matters outlined above. Backfilling the two open positions is critical to ensuring that the Harbor Department's legal needs continue to be addressed efficiently and effectively.

(2) Staffing: POLA is authorized for 14 attorney positions, but currently has 2 vacancies that need to be filled. It is also authorized for 6 staff positions but has 1 vacancy.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill vacancies - 2 attorneys, 1 staff.

C. LOS ANGELES WORLD AIRPORT

The attorneys at the LAWA Division act as legal counsel to the Department of Airports ("LAWA") and the Board of Airport Commissioners ("BOAC") relating to the four airports owned and operated by the City of Los Angeles. Attorneys in the LAWA Division handle a wide range of matters, including contracts, leases, concessions procurements, permits, licenses, eminent domain, inverse condemnation, bankruptcy, municipal financing, land use, landlord-tenant, insurance and risk management, nuisance, First Amendment issues, noise regulations, engineering, construction, federal regulations, labor law, police matters, the City Charter, Administrative and Municipal codes, conflict of interest, ethics, Public Records Act, the Brown Act and environmental law.

(1) Workload: The Airport Division provides legal counsel to the Department of Airports, also known as Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA).

(1) Staffing: The Airport Division comprises 18 attorneys who generally work in the areas listed below.

(a) Additional Staffing Needed: Fill 2 attorney vacancies and 1 legal secretary vacancy; acquire an additional 2 attorneys (1 for Real Property and 1 to handle bankruptcy issues) and 1 investigator to assist the Worker's Compensation section.

VII. EXECUTIVE TEAM AND OFFICE OPERATIONS

The executive team consists of 5 lawyers and 7 support staff. Office Operations includes our Budget & Finance Division, Liability Claims Division, Business Office, Payroll and Special Funds Division, Litigation Expense Management Unit, Outside Counsel accounting unit, Facilities Division, Document Services Division, Central Services Division, Technology and Library Services Division, Grants Division, Human Resources Division, and Legal Training Division. These divisions are staffed by a total of 2 DCAs and 43 support staff with an additional 9 support staff vacancies.

A. Additional Staffing Needed

The Section of the office needs an administrative position that is the equivalent of a General Manager – a nonlawyer with a financial and operational background – to oversee all operations. In addition, 6 additional support staff are needed for budget and finance, grants, ITA, claims management, and executive, and a paralegal for special projects. Office Operations also needs at least 2 attorneys and 2 support staff for tenant issues including TAHO. The tenant rights group at present consists of an assigned administrative coordinator with assistance from the real estate branch, the public rights branch, the criminal branch and the community law corps.

County of Los Angeles
Litigation Activities Report -
Contract Cities and Special Districts

CONTRACT CITIES AND SPECIAL DISTRICTS

Of the $220.4 million reported in annual litigation expenses in FY 23-24, the Contract Cities Liability Trust Fund ("Fund") and Special Districts reimbursed the County $14.6 million.

CONTRACT CITIES

The Fund is a trust account capitalized by contract cities that contract for County employees to perform services in their cities. Litigation expenses that arise from these operations are initially paid by the County. The County is then reimbursed by the Fund for those expenses.

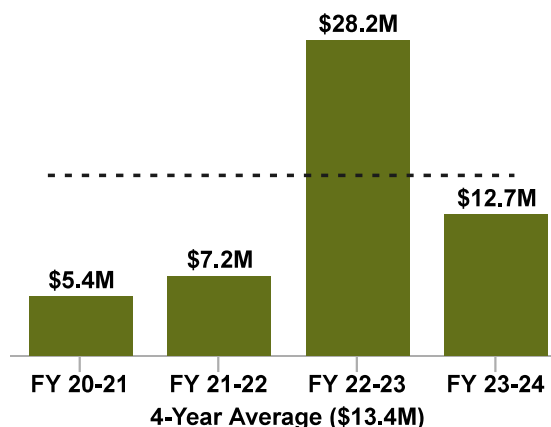

The Fund is self-insured for liabilities up to two or three million dollars, depending on the period of coverage, and the Fund maintains excess insurance policies to cover losses of up to $50 million.

In FY 23-24, the Fund reimbursed $12.8 million of the $14.6 million. Of the $12.8 million paid by the Fund, $12.7 million was for judgments, settlements, fees, and costs arising from alleged misconduct of Sheriff's deputies contractually assigned to various cities throughout the County. The remaining $147,740 was for judgments, settlements, fees, and costs associated with DPW.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS

In FY 23-24, the County was reimbursed $1.7 million for litigation expenses incurred on behalf of its special districts, each supported by its own funding source, as follows: Flood Control District, $1,264,697; Sewer and Drain District, $239,025; Waterworks District, $195,648; and Road District, $29,742
