Comments for Public Posting: I support the Mayors budget but most importantly I am a huge fan of the support and interest in programs revolving around abuse. Thank you for continuing to fund the DART and SART programs. They're very important to the community and help victims receive the support they need. My scope of work involves working with agencies and organizations that receive funding from both the DART and SART programs and I can see first hand the impact the programs have.

Comments for Public Posting: I support this budget because I believe it will help us secure our public transportation system which is in desperate need of support. So many of our cities residents depend on public transit, this is a step in the right direction.

Comments for Public Posting: Hello, Please make sure our parks are properly funded, please don't keep overfunding what doesn't truly benefit all sorts of communities as a whole. Parks/green spaces/natural spaces are very important for our well-being and they are also very limited in Los Angeles. The recreational and leisure opportunities that parks offer usually require a lot of effort, energy, and resources from staff, which can already be overworked and understaffed. Properly funding the staff and programs are essential to building and maintaining safe and healthy communities. Make sure our city's parks are supported and uplifted!!! Thank you, Jennifer

Comments for Public Posting: Dear Los Angeles City Council Members, I am writing to you today to urgently address a matter of significant importance: the safety of our children and families as they navigate to and from our schools. It deeply concerns me that the current conditions around MacArthur Park Elementary School are increasingly unsafe due to several critical factors, notably homelessness, accumulated trash, and the presence of individuals grappling with mental illness. These conditions not only jeopardize the physical safety of our students and families but also undermine the sense of security and well-being in our community. Homelessness has become an all-too-familiar sight on the pathways to our schools. The lack of adequate shelter and support services has forced many individuals and families to seek refuge in areas surrounding our schools. This not only poses risks to their own safety but also creates an environment of uncertainty and fear for students and families passing by. Every child deserves the right to feel secure in their journey to acquire knowledge, yet the presence of homelessness and individuals with mental instability has tragically eroded this fundamental right for many of our young learners. Furthermore, the accumulation of trash and debris in the vicinity of our schools is not only unsightly but also hazardous. Piles of waste not only attract vermin but also pose tripping hazards, especially for our youngest community members. Moreover, the unsanitary conditions resulting from the lack of proper waste management can lead to health concerns, putting our children at risk of preventable illnesses. On several instances we have found needles and drug paraphernalia on campus, exposing our children to additional risks that no child should ever have to face. Equally distressing is the presence of individuals grappling with mental illness in the areas surrounding our schools. While it's crucial to approach mental health issues with empathy and compassion, it's undeniable that untreated mental illness can sometimes manifest in behaviors that are unpredictable and potentially harmful. Without appropriate resources and support systems in place, these individuals may inadvertently pose risks to themselves and others, including our students and families. As concerned members of this community, we cannot stand idly by while the safety of our children is compromised. I urge the City Council to take immediate action to address these pressing concerns. This may involve implementing enhanced security measures, increasing support for mental health services, and collaborating with relevant agencies to address homelessness and sanitation issues in the vicinity of our schools. Our children are our most precious resource, and their safety should be our top priority. I implore the City Council to heed this call to action and work towards creating safer environments for our students to learn and thrive. Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter.
