Comments for Public Posting: Building dense housing in our city is one of the most important things we can do for our communities. Change is always challenging, but growth is necessary for a vibrant, dynamic city like ours! I love this city and I want the people born here to be able to stay here and I want more people to want to move here. Providing housing is one of the most important ways we can do this. And to do so we need to build all kinds of housing -- market rate, luxury, and affordable! Everyone knows Los Angeles is car dependent, and everyone also knows that cars are bad for the environment and our health (gas, lithium, rubber debris, car crashes). It's common sense to upzone around our transit stops and build non-car dependent communities. We invest so much as a city in public transit, this is the logical next step. PLEASE support SB 79!
