Comments for Public Posting: You have not thought this through. Or have you? People buy everything under the sun on the black market, including once safe and pure pharmaceuticals such as opioids and benzos, which can now kill with a single dose. Even legal marijuana thrives on the black market due to irresponsible govt regulation and meddling. Here we go again. Black markets, cartels, rejoice in the stupidity of the elected and appointed. So the kratom people buy in stores will now be black market. You people have your head in the clouds and have no clue the havoc your feel good regulations cause.
