Comments for Public Posting: To the Planning and Land Use Management Committee: From Alan Bloom, Shadow Hills Re: Equestrian Equipment Storage / K Overlay Zone / Development Standards I am writing to support the above motion to allow storage containers in K Overlay Zones. Storage containers provide safe storage for the animal supplies necessary for our animals' care, use, and maintenance. Storage containers are safe for sealed animal feed storage, which are a potential fire hazard if stored outside or in wood frame structures. These storage containers' construction steel construction is rodent-proof, and solid steel provides a non-combustible break for wind-driven fire. I fully support this motion.

Comments for Public Posting: I support this motion because shipping containers are a valuable asset to our equestrian-zoned properties. They provide excellent storage for hay, feed, tools, and equipment needed to maintain our properties. Additionally, they are fireproof, waterproof, and rodent-proof, making them a practical and reliable solution. I urge you to pass this motion. Thank you for your consideration.

Comments for Public Posting: As the owner of a ranch in Lake View Terrace I support the use of shipping containers for storage. The containers are waterproof, rodent proof and fire resistant, making them ideal for storage on equestrian properties, especially in high fire hazard zones.
