

BOB BLUMENFIELD

Councilmember, Third District

August 20, 2025

Petty Santos
Interim City Clerk
Room 360, City Hall
Los Angeles, CA 90012

In accordance with CF 25-0314, I hereby appoint Ron S. Galperin to serve on the Budget & Finance Advisory Committee, formerly known as the Advisory Group on the City's Finances and Budget. He will bring tremendous experience and insight as this Committee works to assess the City's financial status and advise the Budget and Finance Committee on steps to secure the long-term fiscal health of the City.

Mr. Galperin served for 8 years as the City Controller and is uniquely qualified to consider the challenges affecting the City's Budget and provide recommendations for opportunities to ensure financial stability, accountability, and the best use of taxpayer funds.

This appointment is effective immediately. Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

BOB BLUMENFIELD
Councilmember Third District

RON GALPERIN

BIOGRAPHY

RON GALPERIN is known for taking on challenges and finding creative solutions. He was twice elected as Controller, Chief Fiscal Officer and independent watchdog for the City of Los Angeles - serving from 2013 to 2022. Galperin is experienced in bringing leadership, innovation, measurable results and management to complex budgets, organizations and initiatives. Galperin is currently a strategic consultant, attorney and professor.

A Leader in Innovation

Galperin revolutionized how Los Angeles works with data, technology, audits, reports, maps and more. He created L.A.'s first open data portal: Control Panel LA, detailing every dollar spent on goods and services, and measuring results. Because of his nationally recognized efforts, L.A. was named "No. 1 Digital City" by the U.S. City Open Data Census three years in a row. Government Technology Magazine also named Galperin one of its "Top 25 Doers, Dreamers and Drivers." Galperin also pioneered the use of data to promote greater social, economic and educational equity - launching the first ever L.A. Equity Index.

Measurable Results

Galperin has tackled some of the most serious issues of our time, including how to better address homelessness and affordable housing, protect our environment, improve public safety, efficiently manage budgets and pension funds, maintain and upgrade infrastructure and strengthen crucial services. His work has included oversight and management of airport and port operations, public parks, emergency services, illegal dumping, City-owned properties and much more.

Background

Galperin has an extensive reputation as a leading voice for innovation in government, and both the for-profit and nonprofit sectors. Before serving as L.A.'s Controller, he led several City and County commissions and has served on the boards of various community and non-profit organizations. Galperin has extensive experience as both an attorney and small business owner, earning his B.A. from Washington University in St. Louis, his law degree from Loyola Law School in Los Angeles and a certification from the Senior Executives in State and Local Government Program at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government. A son of immigrant parents, he and his husband, Rabbi Zachary Shapiro, are the proud parents of young twins – Maya and Eli.

III. TESTIMONIALS

Wall Street Journal – “Galperin has put the checkbooks of different departments online, making every dollar spent downloadable and searchable, and it’s been popular.” (2016).

Los Angeles Times – “The right man for the job” (2013). “Galperin’s biggest achievement in office so far has been his open data project ...the rapidity with which he was able to compile and post smartly organized data on salaries, spending and the budget exploded the usual trope about painfully slow bureaucracies.” (2015).

San Francisco Chronicle – “Galperin ... has shown himself to be capable of taking complicated topics and making them interesting and digestible to the public.” (2022).

Orange County Register – “Galperin has done an admirable job of increasing transparency to the public ... that enable(s) L.A. taxpayers to see where their money is going and hold their elected officials accountable.” (2022).

Los Angeles Daily News – “Galperin seems to have been born for all aspects of the job. He displays a formidable wonkishness.” (2013). “Galperin ... deserves credit for the audits and frankly critical reports he has written about the shortcomings of city spending...” (2020).
