Comments for Public Posting: As a long time resident of Los Angeles, I would like to see more shade trees in my community to provide shade and protection from the sun especially in hot, summer months. I also think that the city should invest in plan-ting for the future. Planting more trees, preferably Native Trees (species) is preferred but drought-tolerant trees are great also. Regardless, we need more shade trees in Los Angeles. The city should also strongly consider maintaining the trees after planting to ensure longevity and biodiversity.
