Comments for Public Posting: I support Councilmember Ysabel Jurado's resolution opposing the Arroyo Seco Water Reuse Project. I urge the City of Los Angeles to pursue all available legal actions to protect San Pascual Park and ensure these public parklands remain protected for current and future generations. Our community has the right to be respected and to determine its own future. Our community is built on people power and stands firmly for truth, integrity, and justice. Our community should not be forced to carry the burden of pollution generated to benefit affluent and privileged interests in Pasadena and South Pasadena. Our families already experience poorer health outcomes and shorter life expectancy, and we should not be asked to bear additional environmental harms. Our community stands in solidarity with the Indigenous Gabrieleno Kizh, our wildlife neighbors, and all those threatened by displacement in the San Pascual Valley. Our community stands for the rule of law and justice. We respect and honor the AB 52 claim of the Gabrieleno Kizh, whose sacred lands deserve "Full Avoidance" as the starting point for consultation, self-determination, and protection. Water is life. Public resources must be shared responsibly and conserved for future generations. Our community stands with our children, our families, our parks, our trees, and with Mother Earth. We honor the rich diversity of life and the interconnectedness of all creation. Highland Park is strong and proud. We will never stop fighting for our health, our well-being, and our future. Our community refuses to allow privileged and powerful interests to privatize or take our public parks, remove our trees, erase our history, or sacrifice our neighborhoods for projects that benefit golf courses while increasing pollution and reducing the quality and length of our lives. Please support this resolution and defend our public green spaces, public health, Indigenous cultural resources, and the rights of our community.

Comments for Public Posting: I support councilmember Ysabel Jurado's resolution that opposes Pasadena/South Pasadena Arroyo Seco Water Reuse Project. I oppose their acquisition of half an acre of City Of LA San Pascual parkland, their plan to cut down a 2 acre urban forest and destroy over 100 trees, their plan for over 2 years of construction, demolition, and digging in the neighborhood, their plan to divert 20 million gallons of water out of the river in order to water golf courses -- golf courses, really?!?! And then dump that water now contaminated with fertilizer back into the river. This water reuse project is a hairbrained idea that should never have been proposed in the first place.

Comments for Public Posting: Los Angeles parkland shouldn't be handed away to pipe cleaned-up stream water to a South Pasadena golf course. I'm not against water reuse — I'm against doing it here, this way, without a real environmental review. The EIR needs to study genuine nature-based alternatives (as Measure W requires), address the LA Charter limits on giving away public parkland, and include the tribal consultation owed to the Gabrieleño Kizh Nation on land they consider sacred. San Pascual Park belongs to the community. Demand a real alternatives analysis before a single tree comes down.

Comments for Public Posting: I am a resident of Highland Park and I am NOT in support of the water reuse project that is going on in the Pasadena, South Pasadena, Highland Park area. Having lived in HP since 2017 and currently a member of the Highland Park Neighborhood Council, I do not want this beautiful area disrupted by a so called water reuse project that has not been thoroughly vetted and proven by any stretch. These projects always tend to go over budget and over timeline and will disrupt our lives and endanger the lives of the wildlife in this area, possibly for years to come. This project should NOT be allowed to proceed. Thank you so so much for being an amazing advocate for us and speaking up to stop this disaster of a project. Catherine Round

Comments for Public Posting: It is absolutely ridiculous that in this day and age public space/resources is going to be given up to benefit a golf course. We are in a climate crisis and even though it's a problem that can only be properly handled by the federal government due to the scope of the problem, it's still the responsibility of local government bodies to remedy the situation. Golf courses are a waste of land and water. With the rise in AI usage worldwide, the preservation of our water and our environment has become more essential than ever. Cancel the Arroyo Sec Water Reuse Project. It will not benefit the community, only the small few who play golf and let's be real, golf is mainly played by affluent people. They have access to other nearby golf courses like the one in Glendale. San Pascal Park is located in a working class diverse community and our spaces should be tailored to the needs and desire of the community.

Comments for Public Posting: I'm a South Pasadena resident living right along the Arroyo. I walk or run along the arroyo every week all the way from Hermon Park to Brookside Park, often stopping to listen to birds, which I register with my Merlin bird app. The wild little stretch of San Pascual Park is near and dear to my heart. The variety of birds that live there is unmatched. In no other spot along my route through the arroyo do I register such a long lists of bird species when I record the bird sounds. When you walk by there it's immediately obvious why. The area is dense with trees, including some very tall trees. Not many places in our beautiful arroyo have this density of trees, which offer shade and fresh air. I urge you to not destroy this valuable habitat. It's not just important to the birds. It's an important resource for our entire community. It's a rare little reprieve from city life. A place where we can go and recharge, where we can show our kids wildlife and give them an idea of what nature means - real, wild nature, not just playgrounds, sports fields, golf courses and other manicured recreational areas. Both are valuable but the truly natural spaces are disappearing and are uniquely impossible to bring back. There's no bringing back a grove of mature, interconnected trees. Once they are gone, they are gone forever.

Comments for Public Posting: The proposed project has no benefits to Los Angeles residents. Dozens or perhaps hundreds of LA residents including myself will be adversely impacted first by the several years of construction and then by the greatly increased intrusion of light and noise. By contrast less than ten South Pasadena residents would be similarly affected. It does not seem fair that one city, on the edge of its territory, can promote a project which would be detrimental to the health and quality of life of the residents of the neighboring municipality while not greatly affecting its own residents. The draft EIR conveniently leaves out any mention of the increased light intrusion. The City of Los Angeles Recreation and Parks Department will receive no water from this project. Thank You,

Comments for Public Posting: I am adamantly opposed to giving away LA public land to the City of Pasadena. Destroying mature trees and creating a construction site that will disrupt the neighborhood for two years is unnecessary and unacceptable. Comments for Public Posting: To all Council members, Lawmakers, and citizens of Los Angeles and the EARTH, Preserving, respecting, and cherishing Nature and Her wildlife needs to be part of modern societies default everyday life and culture, in order for ANY society to survive and be healthy. Millenials and Generation X deserve to connect to the organic world around them, just as much as Generation X did. We need to preserve and cherish not just San Pascual Park, but ALL PARKS. A healthy Earth is an Earth dominated by wildlife, clean air, clean water and untouched Nature. The fact that this issue is a dispute AT ALL, is a disgrace. Everything we own as human beings (from our cars, clothes, toys, furniture, make-up, etc) comes from our Planet. Therefore our most valuable resource and shared possession IS OUR PLANET, every acre, every inch. And it should all be protected and respected. Build new homes out of old malls, old abandoned buildings, abandoned commercial buildings. There's plenty of those. But untouched wildlife, the animals that live there, parks, nature preserves...those are too quickly becoming anomalous. Animals were here first. PLEASE PRESERVE SAN PASCUAL PARK. I support opposing the Project as proposed by the Cities of Pasadena and South Pasadena in deference to the Kizh Nation. I support opposing the Project on the grounds that the Project would result in the destruction of century-old trees and irreplaceable habitat. I support urging the Cities of Pasadena and South Pasadena to permanently abandon the proposed Project on these grounds. --- This project destroys a massive functional passive biological filter of historic cultural significance and great community value to install pavement wrapped concrete and gravel detention ponds with pumps on timers. This is not how our tax dollars should be spent. This site can be cleaned modestly with respect paid to all parties involved. Thank you for stepping in and doing the right thing.

Comments for Public Posting: I'm writing to oppose the Arroyo Seco Water Reuse Project. "Water Reuse" is a political catchphrase of the 2020s, much like "Affordable Housing" was in the 2010s. The term is misleading and creates a false sense of sustainability. While we need to find solutions to water shortages, we cannot depend on multimillion-dollar government boondoggles and the grifters who profit from them. This project would serve as a flagship example of green gentrification, using taxpayer funds to primarily benefit an already wealthy community rather than addressing broader public needs. This project never meaningfully included the community that would be most directly impacted and should have been its primary beneficiary. Instead, it was advanced through government processes with little public engagement, creating a sunk-cost fallacy in which officials continue throwing good money after bad simply because so much has already been invested. Furthermore, transferring public park land and disregarding the history and cultural significance established by our Indigenous ancestors is an insult to Angelenos who live adjacent to this sacred land and value its historical and cultural importance. It is obvious that Council District 14 is STONEWALLING on this issue to avoid taking a direct stance. Regardless, the community will move forward knowing full well that this golf course project is erroneous in every sense of the word. I urge Council District 14 to stand up for its Los Angeles City constituents (registered voters) and reject policies that prioritize the interests of wealthy, exclusionary "Sundown" communities over the needs of our broader public.
