Comments for Public Posting: I am writing in agreement with the proposal to evaluate the Rancho LPG terminal in San Pedro. I am in agreement with many in my community that would like to see these aging tanks removed. They are in an area of commerce, homes, and schools. And commerce, homes, and schools were there before the tanks were built, so this isn't an instance of "you shouldn't have built or moved there if the tanks bothered you". Should the tanks fail, the police and fire would be right in the blast zone. The very people we rely on to help would be unable to do so. And the 110 Freeway and Port of L. A. would be devastated. Please agree to evaluate the location of these tanks looking at the current situation, not relying on the outdated and limited information from over fifty years ago. Thank you for your consideration.

Comments for Public Posting: I am writing to recommend the proposal to reevaluate the Rancho LPG facility and tanks in San Pedro. The tanks are past their prime and need to be removed. My concern is the tanks could rupture. If that happens, San Pedro and the Port of L.A., where I was once employed as a longshoreman, may never fully recover. Thank you for allowing me to comment.
