With this historic collaboration between LAAS, the ASPCA, and Best Friends Animal Society, we can save more lives going through our shelter system while also significantly improving this public service to our community. It is simply unacceptable that animals that are abused and end up in the shelter are put to death because there is no additional room. Working with volunteers and rescues can save so many lives but everything costs. I am willing to pay higher taxes for more animal shelters and better care for the poor animals that are in the shelters. Thank you. Jacqueline Collins

Comments for Public Posting: My name is Lauren Pompilio and I live in West Hollywood, CA. I urge this committee to support immediate and meaningful investment in Los Angeles animal welfare. The shelter crisis is urgent, and animals are paying the price for a system that has been under-resourced for far too long. This collaboration between LA Animal Services, the ASPCA, and Best Friends Animal Society is a critical opportunity to save lives, improve shelter conditions, support overwhelmed staff and volunteers, and provide better service to the public. Please support this investment and move it forward without delay. The animals in our community cannot wait.

Comments for Public Posting: My name is James Babbin and I live in Sherman Oaks. I am writing in strong support of the proposed $14.22 million grant to the Department of Animal Services (Council File 26-0832). As someone personally involved in animal rescue in Los Angeles — including a dog adopted from Best Friends LA and currently fostering one from Ace of Hearts, a rescue whose facility was destroyed in the Palisades Fire — I have seen firsthand how underfunded and overstretched our shelter system can be. This investment and the collaboration it represents between LAAS, the ASPCA, and Best Friends Animal Society is exactly the kind of structural support that saves lives and improves outcomes for both animals and the communities that care for them. I urge this committee to approve this grant without delay. Thank you.
