Comments for Public Posting: Street takeovers are a menace to society. The selfish, egotistical, disrespectful people who conduct and attend these events show a total malace toward fellow citizens and the safety of others. These are classic mob mentality events and are scary, leave scares on the streets and encourages lawlessness all in the effort to get "likes" & "views" on social media. In my opinion, a strong message needs to be sent to discourage these events and communicate the danger that is being caused. Jail may be too harsh in certain cases but impounding vehicles, public shaming and mandating that offenders perform community service may help. I support efforts to have tougher penalties for street takeover offenders.
